'Some Misunderstanding' Between Shultz, Laird

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House acknowledged Friday there may be "some misunderstanding" about tax policy between presidential advisers George P. Shultz and Melvin R. Laird but said there is "no great disagreement" between them.

Shultz, who also serves as secretary of the Treasury, touched off speculation about an administration policy split when he told reporters in Tokyo Friday that Laird should "keep his cotton-pickin' hands off economic policy."

The strong language used by the normally soft-spoken Shultz was prompted by public statements Thursday by Laird that the administration was considering asking for an anti-inflation, refundable tax increase on income.

Shultz, who was leaving Tokyo to return to Washington following the start of trade negotiations in Japan, said of the surtax plan, "It doesn't sound to me like an idea whose time has come." He went on to say that Laird "always gives press conferences on economic subjects when I'm away."

Laird could not be reached for comment.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren made light of any speculation about a rift. In response to a question, he said Laird discussed the tax debate with newsmen immediately after talking about the subject with President Nixon.

"There might be some misunderstanding," said Warren, suggesting that Shultz's absence from the capital could have been a factor.

Warren emphasized that Laird had reported tax changes merely were being considered and that no decisions had been made.

Laird, former Defense secretary and now a counselor to Nixon, said the ideas grew out of a meeting Nixon had earlier in the week with chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve Board.

Laird said one idea under discussion was a tax increase, perhaps of 10 per cent, on individuals and corporations which would be refunded after inflationary pressures receded.

He also said there was talk of changing the present 7 per cent tax credit on business investments on machinery and equipment to a variable credit that might range from 4 to 15 per cent, depending on economic conditions.

Laird said the Treasury would study the questions.

WASHINGTON: Interior Secy. Rogers C. B. Morton tells a news conference Friday the Interior Dept. is preparing a contingency mandatory oil allocation plan for emergency use this winter. But he said the administration does not think it will prove necessary. Morton said the plan could go into operation within 3 weeks if Pres. Nixon or Congress decided conditions warranted control over fuel distribution. (UPI Telephoto)

'Extremists' Caused Coup

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's military junta said Friday that the armed forces overthrew the Marxist-led government because more than 10,000 "extremists" from other countries had entered Chile.

The statement, by the junta's minister of interior, Gen. Oscar Bonilla, was the junta's first public declaration of its reasons for toppling the leftist government in a coup Tuesday that resulted in the death of President Salvador Allende, a Marxist.

"The country was invaded by more than 10,000 foreign extremists ... who had nothing to do" in their own countries "and were brought here," the interior minister said in a broadcast. Political parties opposed to the Allende government had claimed for months that leftists in Chile were arming themselves.

The armed forces had to "intervene in order to safeguard the destiny of the country, seriously threatened by extremist elements," Bonilla said.

Th extremists included Mexicans, Cubans, Hondurans, Argentines and members Uruguay's Tupamaros guerrillas, Bonilla said.

The government earlier announced it had begun deporting scores of extremists from Chile.

Thousands of Chileans came downtown Friday to view for the first time the debris left by the tank and gunbattles during the coup and during government attempts the last four days to snuff out pockets of snipe resistance.

The lifting of an almost continuous curfew permitted Chileans to leave their homes to purchase food.

Bombs, rockets, tank shelling and machinegun fire had left gaping holes in office buildings. Thousands of windows were broken and the historic presidential palace was heavily damaged.

Official casualty figures have not been given but unofficial reports say 500 to 1,000 people have died as a result of the coup. The government said Friday many persons have been arrested.

In London, the Communist newspaper Morning Star said Allende fought Tuesday with a sub machine gun as soldiers closed in on the presidential palace.

The newspaper did not say if Allende died fighting or if he committed suicide as claimed by the police.

The Communist newspaper quoted Jorge Timossi, a personal friend of Allende and chief of bureau of the Cuban Prensa Latina news agency in Santiago.

The four-man junta said in a communique that its policies would be those of "national unity" (Turn To Page Six) (See "Extremists")

Panel Questions Prime Rate Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's Committee on Interest and Dividends told two of the nation's largest banks Friday to justify an increase in their prime lending rate to a record 10 per cent.

The rate has soared from 6.5 per cent in April.

The committee telegraphed First National City Bank of New York and Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco to "please advise promptly" whether they have complied with voluntary government guidelines covering increases in the lending rate.

The prime rate is the interest that large commercial banks charge their biggest and best customers, primarily corporations. But any prime rate boost is important to consumers because it could mean higher rates on consumer-type loans in the future.

The committee, an adjunct of the Cost of Living Council, has adopted guidelines for prime rate increases paralleling mandatory controls on profits for other industries.

Wells Fargo, the nation's 11th largest bank, said it wasn't surprised by the government's reaction to the higher prime. A bank spokesman added, "We feel we are in complete compliance with the committee's regulations and can supply justification."

A spokesman for Citibank, the nation's second largest bank, said when announcing the 10 per cent prime: "We are and have been within the guidelines."

The president of Cleveland Trust, M. Broch Weir, said the committee action "is going to give the rest of us pause."

However, several other banks joined the increase as the day passed.

Despite the committee's intervention, Wells Fargo and Citibank are free to put the increases into effect. There are no mandatory controls on interest rates.

It was the first time the committee has questioned a rise in the prime rate since the dual prime rate system was adopted in April. Under this system, banks can make more frequent increases on business-type loans but are expected to make few changes in interest rates charged to small businesses, farmers, home buyers and consumers.

UAW Will Strike Chrysler Corp.

BULLETIN

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The United Auto Workers union decided to strike Chrysler Corp. Friday night and 127,500 workers in the United States and Canada were to walk off the job at midnight, UAW President Leonard Woodcock said.

Woodcock made the announcement at a news conference he called only minutes before the expiration of the contract with Chrysler at 11:59 p.m.

Woodcock said bargaining would resume with company negotiators at 11 a.m. Saturday.

DETROIT (AP) — A worker's right to refuse overtime formed the key bottleneck Friday as bargainers for Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union struggled to reach agreement on a new contract before an 11:59 p.m. EDT strike deadline.

"There's still a chance for a settlement," a union source said Friday night. "But it's only a slim chance."

Earlier, a union negotiator said "Chrysler's going to make an economic offer but go in the ditch on voluntary overtime."

Overtime is required under the current Chrysler contract, but the union wants each worker to decide if he will work more than 40 hours weekly.

Nearly 10 per cent of 6,000 workers at Chrysler's Belvidere, Ill., assembly plant refused to work overtime Thursday.

Walkouts by workers at lunchtime Friday forced shutdowns of assembly lines at Chrysler's suburban Detroit Warren truck and Hamtramck assembly plants. The company said about 7,000 workers were idled when not enough men returned from lunch to man the lines.

Meanwhile, statements telling salaried workers to cross picket lines and work during the strike were prepared by the union for distribution Saturday.

A union spokesman said the statement did not mean there would be a strike. He said it was prepared in advance for distribution Saturday only if there were a strike at midnight.

Pathet Lao, Vientiane Sign Coalition Pact

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pathet Lao and Vientiane government negotiators signed an agreement Friday setting up a coalition government and then turned to the long and risky job of trying to make it work. Two earlier coalitions in 1957 and 1962 failed.

Obstacles posed in almost every article of the protocol to the Feb. 21 Laos cease-fire agreement were put aside as government and Pathet Lao officials shook hands and drank champagne at the villa of Prince Souvanna Phouma, prime minister of both the old neutralist government and the new coalition.

The 180,000 people of Vientiane took little notice of the signing after two decades of periodic warfare.

Souvanna appealed to world powers to make the agreement work better than two previous coalitions that broke up partly because of foreign influence.

The U.S. Embassy announced America's readiness for "cooperation an assistance."

The agreement creates three major governmental bodies to be divided equally between the Vientiane side and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao.

But 80 per cent of Laos' 91,000 square miles and one-third of its nearly three million people remain in Pathet Lao-controlled territory.

Souvanna, 72, who has been prime minister most of the time since 1961, was expected to go to the Laotian National Assembly in a few days for permission to reshuffle the government and a vote of approval on the agreement.

The assembly, which has no Pathet Lao members, is scheduled to end its current session Oct. 11.

Sixty days after the new government is formed all foreign troops, including some 200 Americans and several thousand Thai mercenaries paid by the United States, are to leave the country.

The agreement calls for withdrawal of all foreign troops without regard to nationality, but the plans of some 40,000 North Vietnamese troops in Laos, mostly along the Ho Chi Minh Trail, are a question mark.

Seek Agnew Jury Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson has decided that information gathered in an investigation of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew should be turned over to a federal grand jury probing corruption in Maryland, sources said Friday night.

But the sources, close to the probe, emphasized that Richardson still had not decided whether to seek an indictment against the vice president.

The only decision that has been made was that it was appropriate for the grand jury in Baltimore to receive and consider information gathered so far in the Agnew phase of the investigation, the sources said.

The Agnew phase of the investigation reportedly was still underway and there was no indication when it would be completed.

The federal grand jury is looking into allegations of political kickbacks by architects and contractors in Maryland's construction industry. Agnew has denied allegations that he took kickbacks while he was governor of the state and before that Baltimore County executive.

Earlier in the day, in Baltimore, Dale Anderson, the first

Maryland official indicted in the scandal, pleaded innocent to charges of bribery, extortion and conspiracy.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Justice Department spokesmen began saying "no comment" instead of their usual "no" when asked whether Richardson had made his decision to seek an indictment of the vice president.

This change in official comment apparently stemmed from the decision to allow the grand jury to see results of the Agnew investigation, the sources said.

Four Watergate Defendants Ask For Reversal Of Pleas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four of the original seven Watergate defendants told a federal judge Friday that they were deceived into pleading guilty and asked to change their pleas to innocent.

In a petition filed with U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, the four men said they pleaded guilty to keep from exposing secret national security operations they took part in.

They asked for a jury trial if Sirica allows them to change their pleas.

The four, who pleaded guilty Jan. 15, 1973, are Bernard L. Barker, Frank A. Sturgis, Virgilio R. Gonzalez and Eugenio R. Martinez.

They were arrested inside Democratic National Committee headquarters along with James W. McCord Jr., who was convicted in the original trial.

All four have been awaiting final sentencing by Sirica. He had sentenced them provisionally to the maximum terms pending review.

The pleas were to charges of conspiracy, burglary and wiretapping — carrying a maximum prison term of 55 years and fines of up to $50,000.

On Jan. 15, the second week of their trial, the four men fired their original lawyer, Henry B. Rothblatt, who would not let them plead guilty. The court assigned a lawyer for the guilty pleas and the four men later hired attorney Daniel Schultz, who filed Friday's motion.

At the time of the pleadings, Sirica closely questioned each man about whether any promises had been made to induce the plea or whether anyone threatened or coerced it.

To each question, the men answered no.

E. Howard Hunt had pleaded guilty a few days earlier. The other two defendants, G. Gordon Liddy and McCord, stood trial and were convicted by a jury.

Liddy has appealed his conviction to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

The petition for the four men contended that their guilty pleas "were inaccurate because defendants had and have valid defenses to the charges against them."

They said the pleas were "false and involuntarily entered under the force and compulsion of a belief that the necessity to protect national security interests precluded them from asserting the defenses they had to the charges against them."

They added that they had been directed to plead guilty "to avoid the exposure of secret, confidential and sensitive national security operations of which they were a part."

Editorial Comment

Business Investment Brisk

Of late there has been a slight groundswell of talk about a possible recession. Some of it comes from economists, a few of whom are saying a serious business slump may hit late this year or in 1974. Some of the talk amounts to no more than ruminations by ordinary folk who "feel it in their bones" that the overheated economy may take a bad downturn.

In this connection there are both good and bad aspects of word from the Commerce Department that projected business spending on plant and equipment continues to be vigorous. The report is that American firms plan to spend $100.2 billion for these purposes this year. This would be a healthy 13.2 per cent increase over 1972.

The administration maintains that this strong business investment will act as a bulwark against recession. The actions of the business community tend to support this feeling. Plans for expansion and modernization suggest optimism about the course of the economy. The survey does indicate, as Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent remarked upon its release, that "businessmen are confident about future sales."

A continued high level of investment in production facilities also may have the undesirable effect of increasing inflationary pressures and keeping interest rates high. Judicious damping action might be advisable.

The temporary reduction of tax incentives for business investment, suggested by Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns, might help. But one effect of this would be to hamper production of goods whose present short supply fuels inflation. The more flexible approach advocated by House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills—that is, higher tax incentives to foster production of currently scarce goods as an anti-inflation measure — seems preferable.

Great Lakes Improvement

So much has been heard in recent years about ecological deterioration of the Great Lakes that good news catches one off balance. The good news seems to be bonafide, however: it comes from Dr. Robert A. Sweeney, director of Buffalo State University's Great Lakes Laboratory at Buffalo, N.Y.

Sweeney cannot be said to exude optimism; he does not say that we can quit worrying about premature aging of these huge inland bodies of water. He does not even go so far as to claim that water quality in Lake Erie, which has been widely portrayed as a virtual cesspool, is improving. What he tells us is that "it's getting worse at a slower rate."

This is encouraging when one recalls scare stories to the effect that irreversible harm done by sewage and other pollution had transformed Erie into a dead lake. The young specialist in fresh water ecology thinks that "aging may be reversible," though he adds his doubts that fish will ever be as numerous in Lake Erie as they once were.

Still, progress is being made. Industrial pollution is being brought under control. The major goal now is to curb municipal sewage. This will take time, but when it happens the Great Lakes will be on their way to a comeback.

We're Losing A Good Man

When a United States senator gives evidence of competence, integrity and a lively sense of the public good, it is a pity to lose him. This applies to Sen. Harold Hughes of Iowa, who announces that he will not seek reelection when his term expires in January 1975. This is said without regard to partisanship; our point is that Hughes is an able man, no matter what his party, and will be missed.

The forthcoming loss seems all the greater because Hughes has only been in the Senate since 1966, following three terms as governor. Few senators are able to come to the height of their powers in that body until they are into at least a second term.

Hughes will not simply vanish from the public eye; he plans to work with religious groups, seeking to "move people through a spiritual approach." But when he leaves public office the Senate will be the poorer for his departure.

White House Comes Back Alive After Dormancy

By EUGENE V. RISHER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon White House, virtually dormant for the past three months, has now come alive. Within the past three weeks, the President has held two news conferences, addressed the nation on radio, met with Congressional leaders of both parties, hosted Republican officials from throughout the nation and sent to Capitol Hill a second State of the Union address.

The feeling among White House aides now is that while the Watergate crisis is not past, its dimensions have been defined and its damage is manageable.

However flimsy some may consider them to be, the President has developed positions that are believable—especially if one is disposed to believe them—on virtually all of the offshoots of the scandal.

Believes Worst Is Past
He has accepted responsibility—if not the blame—for the entire mess. He has blamed some of the excesses disclosed by the Watergate affair on overzealous aides trying to perpetuate him in power.

He claimed other excesses were the result of legitimate concern about national security. He is withholding evidence that might remove the cloud of suspicion hanging over his head but is doing so in the tradition of his predecessors, to protect the ability of him and his successors to perform the duties of the Presidency.

The President figured from the beginning—and rightly so—that most people wanted to believe him. An electorate which gave him the second largest victory in modern political history just 10 months ago does not like to think its trust has been so misplaced.

Feeling this feeling that the worst is past is the belief that people throughout the country are now more concerned about rising food costs and fuel shortages than why the President refuses to release the Watergate tapes.

Nixon's Strategy
Ironically, the crisis of leadership spawned by the Watergate affair is receding because other crises are overshadowing it. And in dealing with these other crises, Nixon is on firmer ground.

In bureaucratize, this is called OTE — Overtaken by Events.

Nixon hit hard on this theme both in his radio address and in his message to Congress this week. Without mentioning the Watergate crisis, he emphasized that the only way the nation's economic and energy problems can be solved is by "holding the spotlight of public attention and public debate on those issues that directly and personally affect you and your lives."

So over-all, the strategy appears to be this:

With such a receptive audience, plausibility on the Watergate affair is enough to halt the erosion of public confidence. Progress in dealing with the pocket book issues, can restore it.

The President acknowledged as much in his news conference last week.

"... as we move in these areas and as we move on the domestic front, the people will be concerned about what the President does and I think that will restore the confidence."

Thoughts

"Then the king said to the attendants, 'Bind him hand and foot, and cast him into the outer darkness; there men will weep and gnash their teeth.' For many are called, but few are chosen."—Matthew 22:13, 14.

Most of us can, as we choose, make of this world either a palace or a prison.—John Lubbock, English astronomer.

Jesus said "Let her alone, let her keep it for the day of my burial. The poor you always have with you, but you do not always have me."—John 12:7, 8.

I thank fate for having made me born poor; poverty taught me the true value of the gifts useful to life.—Anatole France, French novelist.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The custom of clothing baby boys in blue began because of a belief that evil spirits which would harm a male child could be kept powerless by blue, which was thought to have divine powers. The World Almanac says. Girl babies were not given a "protective" color because they were considered inferior and evil spirits would not take interest in them.

He Can't Play The Game By Himself

Russia's Allies Growing Cynical

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Except for the breakthrough in U.S.-Russian relations, Leonid Brezhnev's foreign policy has been a failure these past few years.

The Soviet Union could be moving into a position of military superiority in both conventional and military terms. But Brezhnev's record to date in building alliances and subverting governments around the globe to his own ends has been an abysmal failure.

The headlines have pointed to Moscow's short-term gains, as in the Middle East with Egypt and Iraq. But lasting alliances are what count, not flashes in the pan.

The pressure of these foreign failures—and the Russian economic bobbles—should logically continue to push the Soviet Union toward even closer relations with the United States, assuming that logic determines such matters.

Note these details: A series of insider reports from the Middle East indicates Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's major ousting of Russians some time back has been followed by a further cooling of relations between the two lands. The Egyptians are increasingly concerned over what they believe to be Moscow's attempts at subversion of high officials and an attempted build-up of anti-government cells in Egypt. The Russians reportedly are more and more coming to the belief the Egyptians are a weak reed on which to base foreign policy.

The situation in Iraq is even worse in a way. The government is so unpredictable, and finds it so difficult to get along even with other major Arab nations, that Moscow is reportedly most uncomfortable in depending on the present Iraqi government as an ally.

The Soviet Union, for all its expenditures in the Vietnam war, may be on the road to losing a great deal of its influence in Southeast Asia to China. There has developed a great suspicion of the Russians, who have in recent years attempted to push a Soviet-sponsored SEA security alliance. Many local leaders see in this Russian move an attempt to use them in Soviet designs against China, and additionally as an attempt by Moscow to gain political dominance in the area as the United States lowers its stance.

The relationship of Russia with India is not clear at this time. The Indians needed the Soviet Union badly in their war with Pakistan and in handling their cool relations with China. But there are signs a number of Indian officials in high places are not completely happy with the way Soviet officials operate and would like to improve communications with Washington as a balance to what they perceive as a Russian threat.

Other reports indicate Soviet influence is declining in a number of African lands where the U.S.S.R. has invested most heavily in years past.

The Russians have spent great sums in Latin America over the past decade, and trained Cubans in the art of establishing undergrounds. But the gains have not matched the cost.

Chance, of course, has some influence over a super power's relationships and successes. But the evidence suggests Brezhnev and his predecessors are largely responsible for Russia's major political problems abroad.

The Soviet Union has for several decades insisted that its allies be its puppets, their economies geared to the Soviet economy, their prices arranged to Soviet profit, their foreign policies determined solely by Moscow.

This basically is what turned China off and led to the Russian withdrawal of its aid and technicians. It is what led to the Czech, the East German, the Hungarian high-level revolts which moved in parallel with a populace aroused by totalitarian controls. It is what led Tito in Yugoslavia long ago to break with Moscow while remaining Communist.

Ann Landers:

Guest Seeks Helps

With Wedding Problem

Dear Ann Landers: You have printed letters from all sorts of far-out kooks — some so nutty I was sure you made them up. But now I am faced with an honest-to-goodness Ann Landers problem and I need your advice. Will you please be a good sport and help me?

I was invited to a wedding and did not send in an acceptance because I wasn't sure I could attend. I telephoned, however, and told the bride-to-be that I would try to be there, if it was possible.

Due to circumstances I won't go into here, I was not able to attend. Three days later I received the following letter in the mail:

Dear ———:

Since you did not attend my wedding after you had confirmed the invitation, I feel that you should contribute toward the food. The cost of each plate was $5 and we had to pay for your reservation even though you did not attend. I would not ask you to do this but we are over $300 in debt because people like you said they were coming and did not show up. Your contribution would help a lot. Very truly yours — Signature of the bride.

Well, Ann: Did you I do — Still Stunned

Dear S.S.: No, never!!! EVER????????? What should I!! Now, forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: I dye my husband's hair and have been doing it for nearly ten years. At first he objected but I convinced him it would be to his advantage to look younger. Finally he agreed. Now he wouldn't have gray hair on a bet. Here are the advantages of dyeing, as he sees them:

A man who looks elderly is considered over-the-hill, terribly square and out of step with the times. When people think you are middle-aged instead of old, they treat you like a contemporary. This is bound to make a man more cheerful. It lifts his spirits and improves his ability to function sexually.

I believe some women want to look younger than their husbands, which is why they dye their own hair but they don't offer to dye their husbands'. What do YOU think, Ann — A Fan in El Paso

Dear El Paso: I think if I ever suggested to my husband that he let me dye his hair he would send me in for a saliva test. If YOUR husband likes it, that's his business. To each his own.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are very particular about our diet. We eat only fresh vegetables from our garden, a lot of fruit and yogurt, homemade whole-wheat and nut bread, no meat and very little starch.

A problem arises when we want to invite our parents or neighbors for dinner. We never know if we should serve them what we eat, or if we should buy meat, etc. I don't think people have a right to impose their life style on others. But cooking two different meals is a lot of trouble.

What do you say? — You Are What You Eat

Dear Y. A.: It's not much trouble to throw a steak or a piece of fish under the broiler for guests who don't care for yogurt. Why not come right out and ask your guests what they would prefer?

Forced Fuel Allocation Approached Hesitantly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite growing support for the move, presidential energy adviser John A. Love says the administration remains unconvinced that mandatory allocation of heating fuel would avoid possible shortages this winter.

Mandatory allocation would not provide an instant solution and would be nothing more than a sharing of fuel shortages, Love told the Senate government operations subcommittee Thursday.

Meanwhile, a House committee took up legislation requiring the President to impose mandatory allocation, a concept also urged by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The House Commerce Committee debated the legislation then adjourned until next week when it is expected to resume action.

Russell E. Train, new EPA administrator, said mandatory allocation "would get clean fuel where it will do the most good," meaning that low-sulfur fuels, those which produce the least pollution, could be directed into areas that need them the most.

The administration has relied on a voluntary allocation program for heating oil.

Under Senate-passed legislation, the President would direct the pricing and distribution of the nation's entire supply of oil and petroleum products to ensure that public-service needs are met and that each section of the nation gets a share of fuel.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., sponsor of the Senate bill, wrote President Nixon that the nation faces "serious power shortages and blackouts in major metropolitan areas this winter if action is not immediately taken to assist electrical utilities in securing essential fuel supplies."

Love, director of the White House Energy Policy Office, conceded that the nation may face temporary heating-fuel shortages this winter.

He said the administration is trying to increase supply by stimulating refinery output and increasing imports but that mandatory allocation is still under consideration.

In other energy-related developments: —An EPA report predicts that waste radiation from atomic power plants could become a serious public health problem in the long run unless it is carefully controlled. The agency and the Atomic Energy Commission are conducting studies on health effects, an EPA spokesman said.

—An Interior Department official said energy from geysers like Old Faithful in Yellowstone National Park could offer a substantial source of new power for western states by the year 2000. The hot springs and natural hot water geysers could supply 10 per cent of the power needs for the western one-third of the nation, William W. Lyons, deputy undersecretary, said.

—An estimated 2,500 service station operators protested the administration's pricing and energy policies. The rally on the capitol steps was organized by the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers.

U.S. Rejects Opium Offer Of Burmese Rebels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has rejected an alleged offer by Burmese guerrilla leaders of 400 tons of opium in exchange for $13 million and U.S. support in obtaining some independence for the remote Shan States from the rest of the Union of Burma.

The offer allegedly was made by an emissary of the guerrillas to Rep. Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., chairman of a House narcotics subcommittee, in Bangkok last month. Wolff said he relayed it to U.S. Embassy, CIA and U.S. narcotics agents with the suggestion that they study it.

State Department officials commented that it would be nice to think that there is a magic $13 million solution to the opium smuggling problem. They said that acceptance of the offer would do far more harm than good and would poison U.S. relations with Burma and neighboring Thailand.

Wolff said the proposal came from Gen. Lo Hsing Hang, leader of the local defense forces and the self-styled president of the Shan States Unity Action Committee and Shan States Progress Party.

Since allegedly making it, Lo has been arrested by the Burmese government and is being held for a variety of charges including treason, and murder. U.S. officials here said that dealing with Lo would be the same as dealing with a Mafia chieftain, and they wanted no part of it.

GATT Approves Trade Document

TOKYO (UPI) — Delegates from 82 countries adopted a landmark "Tokyo Declaration" Friday launching a new round of negotiations to rewrite the rules of international trade.

U.S. Treasury Secretary George Shultz played a major role in the talks and predicted a separate draft agreement on world monetary reform may be ready by 1974.

More than 600 high financial officials attended the Tokyo talks on the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), which sets the framework for foreign trade among non-Communist countries.

The officials of GATT countries approved the "Tokyo Declaration," which provides for the trade talks, expected to last two years, and lays down ground rules for them.

"The negotiations shall aim to achieve the expansion and ever greater liberalization of world trade and improvement in the standard of living and welfare of the people of the world," the declaration read.

The actual working-level talks, which probably will be known as the "Nixon Round," are scheduled to open the last week in October at the GATT headquarters in Geneva. GATT's last previous round of trade negotiations from 1964-69 was known as the "Kennedy Round" in honor of the late American president.

At a news conference before leaving for Washington, Shultz said that draft language for an agreement on a reformed world currency system may be ready by the time of the 1974 meeting of the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

"No one can say it will turn out that way, but there is a lot of sentiment that it might," Shultz said.

CHARGE CHICAGO POLICE 'ALLOW' RACKET TO THRIVE

CHICAGO (UPI)—Cook County State's Attorney Bernard J. Carey Thursday charged that the Chicago Police Department allowed a $100 million a year numbers racket to thrive in the city.

"Every schoolboy knows that this kind of racket can thrive only through knowing connivance and direct participation of police department members," Carey said in a speech before the Afro-American Patrolmen's League.

Carey's comments were his latest attack on police policy on gambling.

I didn't know how to tell Billy about the accident. How can you say to your son that his mother is injured and there seems no hope?

I held him close, but could find no words of comfort. Suddenly I heard Billy start to pray softly. I had always left prayers and that sort of thing up to Mary. I somehow felt it couldn't really help, but I felt myself kneeling with Billy.

Softly he prayed as his mother had taught him. To my surprise I heard no begging plea but rather earnest conversation like that with a trusted and loved friend. "Thy will be done," not hopelessly, but serenely acknowledging the goodness of God's will.

Miraculously, we brought Mary home yesterday, and I plan to spend the rest of my life praising God, not only for her recovery, but also for the faith I have learned from our son.

You can bet that when Mary and Billy go to church next Sunday, I'll be right there with them—singing, praising and believing.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15
—Born today, you are a person with far less energy than you would like to think. Excitable, easily stimulated to activity of every kind, you often find that you have finished what you have set out to do with your strength at low ebb and your spirits flagging as a result. You are quick to recover, however, for you cannot help looking forward to the next project, the next enterprise, the next expenditure of energy — even though the latter may again be beyond your capacity. As for easily attainable goals, you are not much interested.

Walker; GOP Chiefs To Discuss RTA

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Daniel Walker and Republican majority leaders of the General Assembly have agreed on a summit meeting Wednesday to discuss a proposed regional transit authority for six Northeastern Illinois counties.

However, they remained in disagreement on the place of the long-sought summit. The governor said it would be at 11 a.m. on the 20th floor of the State of Illinois Building in Chicago.

No sooner had he made that announcement than House Speaker W. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest, told newsmen the session would be at 11 a.m. in the Lincoln Room of the Bismarck Hotel across the street from the State Building.

"We want this on neutral ground," Blair said. "As in the past, we have reserved the Lincoln Room."

Walker announced Friday he has written to state legislative leaders and Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago inviting them to the meeting.

The governor also said he would invite county board presidents of Cook, Lake, McHenry, DuPage, Will and Kane counties.

Walker's office said the governor had cleared the Sept. 19 date with Daley and Democratic legislative leaders.

An agenda issued by Blair titled "Third R.T.A. Leadership Meeting," showed Blair welcoming the participants. Walker did not attend two earlier sessions.

Senate President William C. Harris, R-Pontiac, was listed next for a review of the first two meetings.

Blair's program showed Walker third on the list to explain a new proposal.

Mark Clark, an aide to Walker, said in a telephone interview the governor "will have a proposal by that time. They're working it up in the Department of Transportation."

The last item on Blair's agenda was "discussion of the alternative proposals."

Although two Republicans and the Democratic legislative leaders had attended two previous meetings on mass transit with Daley, Walker stayed away on grounds that residents of the six-county area should be consulted first.

Since then, public hearings have been held and Walker said he had come to share with

IRA Claims Bomb Blasts In Ireland

BELFAST (UPI) — The Irish Republican Army (IRA) claimed responsibility Friday for two bomb blasts that ripped through a post office and an adjacent hotel in a County Fermanagh town on the Irish Republic border.

The army credited an alert hotel employee with preventing possible heavy casualties in the explosion at the Carlton Hotel Thursday night in the border town of Belleek.

Authorities said the twin blasts caused extensive damages to the two buildings but no injuries or deaths.

"A unit of the South Fermanagh command last night carried out a successful bombing raid on a British post office and hotel in Belleek," the militant IRA provisional wing said in a statement. "Once again, the IRA has demonstrated its ability to pierce the much-vaunted British border security," the militant IRA provisional wing said in a statement.

Plan Ceiling Price Raise On Gasoline, Oils

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has decided to raise the ceiling prices of gasoline, diesel fuels and home heating oils, director John T. Dunlop said Friday.

But Dunlop said the new and higher ceilings for these products will not go into effect until after the council reviews cost information from the industry by Sept. 25, when the amount of the increase will be decided.

After the data from the retail dealers is reviewed, "the council will act promptly" to boost its ceiling, Dunlop said, in a statement.

He announced at the same time that the council is permitting to go into effect a one cent per gallon price increase in gasoline by Atlantic Richfield Co., effective Monday.

Also, the firm will be allowed to raise the price of home heating oil by one cent per gallon.

Dunlop said the decision to raise the ceiling on gasoline, diesel fuel and home heating oil carries out a commitment to monitor the prices of these products to make sure that ceiling prices reflect the increased cost of imports and domestic crude oil.

He gave no precise time when consumers will feel the higher prices. But the council indicated that it would be soon after Sept. 25.

The council said the nation's retail gasoline dealers and home heating oil dealers will receive forms to submit price, cost and profit information that will be used to justify boosting the ceiling.

In another action, the council said it will hold a series of meetings with major heating oil importers next week to review amended regulations for computing the increased costs of oil imports. The council said it wanted to make sure the companies fully understand technicalities of the government's rules.

Also, the council declared illegal practices reported by some retail gasoline stations in charging for services that used to be free, such as for washing windshields, checking oil, or putting air in tires.

A spokesman said that some retail outlets in Florida, Indiana and California had started charging customers for such services. He added that customers are encouraged to report any violation to the Internal Revenue Service.

Chilean Curfew Causes Hardship For Citizens

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Curious, thirsty, hungry or homesick Santiaguans wandered out into the sunlight Thursday after remaining behind doors for 42 hours — by order of the military junta.

They were victims of the curfew ordered by the generals who deposed President Salvador Allende on Tuesday.

His militant leftist followers took to the streets and rooftops, sniping at army patrols.

One response by the junta was to declare a curfew starting at 6 p.m. Tuesday. For no reason could a civilian go out in the streets after the deadline.

Housewives quickly remembered they had forgotten to go shopping. Hotels were filled by businessmen who couldn't get home before 6. Companies organized skeletal staffs to hold the fort.

When fighting appeared to drop off, the junta lifted the curfew from noon Thursday until 5:30 p.m. There were occasional snifflings when noon came and many of the city's three million residents stayed home, but thousands went out.

There was much for the curious — apartments and office buildings with gaping holes from tank shells, the burned-down headquarters of the Communist and Socialist parties, thousands of windows broken by bullets, and blood stains.

But they couldn't get within two blocks of the heavily damaged presidential palace where Allende died as troops stormed in.

Police said there were still snipers in nearby buildings. There was little for the hungry. Virtually all of the downtown merchants decided the risk for such a short business day wasn't worth it.

A few sidewalk fruit stands opened on broad Alameda Avenue. The vendors charged twice the normal price for their apples and avocados and still sold a day's supply in an hour or less.

One bold delicatessen owner opened his doors and a block-long line of shoppers formed. "What does he have to sell?" one woman asked another who was standing in the queue.

"I don't know," the second one replied.

The first one returned from reconnaissance and told the second, "He has no bread."

"Oh I knew that," was the reply.

There was nothing for the thirsty, at least in the city center. Coffee shops, juice parlors and bars remained shut.

Urges Delay Of Offshore Oil Drilling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Environmentalist spokesmen Thursday urged delay of plans for oil drilling off the coasts of the eastern United States and Alaska until more research can be done about the effect on marine life and marshlands.

The conservationists, at a second day of hearings before the Council on Environmental Quality, said Louisiana marshlands are dying because of offshore drilling without previous impact studies.

"We fear that the cries of energy crisis will serve to hasten exploration and leasing of the Atlantic outer Continental Shelf before the risks to the fragile coastal environment can be adequately assessed," said Ann Roosevelt, lobbyist for Friends of the Earth.

"The scientific evidence concerning the effects of marine oil pollution is incomplete," she said.

As a result of not studying the environment before drilling started off Louisiana, Miss Roosevelt said, the state "has experienced vast dislocations of her marshes and estuaries ... and a recent study has concluded that the great Louisiana marshes are dying."

The petroleum industry, with support from administration officials, argued that opening up the Atlantic and Alaskan coasts to oil drilling would ease the energy shortage.

"Oil and gas operations off the Atlantic coast would cause minimum harm to the environment," said Warren Marshall, a Shell Oil Co. official.

Kenneth Lay, deputy interior undersecretary for energy, said offshore oil supplies could equal the rest of the nation's known reserves.

The council is a White House agency that advises President Nixon on environmental matters.

Similar hearings are scheduled later this month in Boston and Anchorage and in October in New York, Philadelphia and Jacksonville, Fla.

Chrysler strike, our salaried Chrysler workers will continue to work," said the statement, signed by UAW President Leonard Woodcock and Vice President Douglas Fraser.

The strategy "exerts the greatest pressure in terms of securing benefits to all UAW workers," especially Chrysler workers, the statement said.

Negotiations to prevent a strike by Chrysler's 127,500 union workers operated under a total blackout on public comment about progress for the final 29 hours.

As bargaining moved into the final hours, negotiators had to reach agreement on a host of issues involving wages and fringe benefits.

Chrysler's first wage offer, calling for three per cent pay hikes in each of the next three years, was rejected by the union as "a mockery of the collective bargaining process." UAW leaders have never spelled out just how large a wage increase they want.

Wages in the auto industry now average $5.12 hourly on straight time. Assembly line workers, the largest single part of the work force, earn $4.84 per hour.

Bargainers tried to settle the union's complex economic demands, which included boosting pensions from $50 to $650 monthly, allowing workers to retire at any age after 30 years in the plants, full protection against inflation, and company-paid dental insurance.

Contracts with General Motors and Ford, where the union has nearly 600,000 members, expire at the same time as the Chrysler pact, but have been extended indefinitely while the UAW tries to obtain a pattern setting agreement at Chrysler, the nation's third largest auto maker.

Pompidou Plans To Keep Good Ties With USSR

PEKING (UPI) — French President Georges Pompidou said today his state visit to China will not sway France from maintaining good relations with the Soviet Union.

Speaking at a news conference, Pompidou said that during extensive talks with Chinese leaders he and his hosts did not always see eye-to-eye on all major international problems.

He said the differences were due to different geographical location of the two nations and different preoccupations.

The 62-year-old Pompidou reaffirmed his determination to continue the Gaullist regime's 10-year drive for better relations with Moscow.

He was asked whether his visit would affect the French relationship with Moscow.

"Why should there be any consequences?" Pompidou responded, throwing up his arms.

UMW Candidate Pleads Guilty; Vote Delayed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—A U.S. Labor Department spokesman in Washington confirmed that an election scheduled today in District 19 of the United Mine Workers of America has been postponed until Oct. 23 to reopen nominations for the presidency.

William J. Turnblazer, 52, opposed in his bid for re-election as head of the district headquartered in Middlesboro, Ky., has pleaded guilty to charges in the murder of union insurgent Joseph A. "Jack" Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

Turnblazer is in protective custody.

The Labor Department spokesman told UPI the election was postponed "to spare the union and the department the expense of another election."

Turnblazer pleaded guilty in federal court at Pittsburgh last week to participating in the Yablonski murder conspiracy with at least nine others, including former UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle.

Turnblazer and Boyle also have been charged with murder by Pennsylvania authorities.

Both the federal indictment and state murder complaint charge that Boyle conspired with Turnblazer and Albert F. Pass, former secretary-treasurer of District 19, to arrange for Yablonski's slaying.

Boyle is charged with releasing about $20,000 in UMW funds to District 19 in Kentucky and Tennessee "to be used to pay for the killing of Joseph Yablonski."

Pass, also of Middlesboro, was convicted of murder last June 19.

Three candidates—Joe Scopa of Totts, Ky., E.A. McDaniel of Corbin and Robert Grubbs of Cawood—are seeking the office formerly held by Pass.

Agnew

In a letter to Agnew in August, Richardson told the vice president that he would have an opportunity to meet with prosecutors before any final decision was made in his case.

The sources said they were unaware of any such meeting held in recent days, or any contact between Agnew and Richardson.

J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press secretary, could not be reached immediately for comment on the reports.

Anderson, who succeeded Agnew in 1966 as the chief elected executive of suburban Baltimore County and still holds that post, was released on personal recognition by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Joseph Young pending trial Jan. 7.

Norman Ramsey, attorney for the 56-year-old official, told Young Anderson wanted "a prompt trial."

A 39-count federal indictment returned Aug. 23 accused Anderson, one of Maryland's most powerful Democrats, of extorting $46,420 from eight engineering and architectural firms doing work for Baltimore County.

Agnew has been informed by federal prosecutors that he is under investigation for similar allegations of wrongdoing, Agnew has denied all allegations, and federal officials say that no evidence involving him has been presented to the special grand jury that has been working since January.

Meanwhile, Agnew aides in Washington were reported to be furious over news reports stating that since his rise to prominence Agnew received gifts of food, wine and liquor from friends and a liberal "celebrity discount" during his 4½-year stay at Washington's Sheraton Park Hotel.

CBS News reported that Agnew received the discount before moving to a suburban Maryland home last June. A hotel spokesman said that such discounts are regularly given prominent tenants.

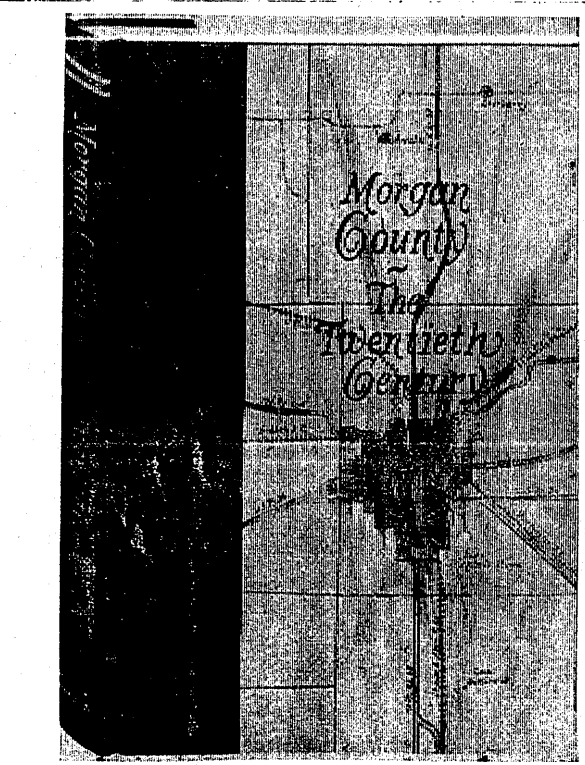

Agnew aides refused to confirm or deny the reports, but J. Marsh Thomson, Agnew's press aide, said the stories concerned innocent personal relationships between the vice president and his friends.

It is not uncommon for prominent political figures to receive gifts and favors from friends and associates and none of the reports about Agnew have claimed that he ever reciprocated in any way.

The junta said the Allende government "had gone beyond the limits of the law ... in a clear and deliberate manner, accumulating in its hands the greatest amount of political and economic power ... and putting all the rights and liberties of the inhabitants of the country in grave danger."

The 65-year-old Allende and his Popular Unity coalition—dominated by the Communist and Socialist parties—attempted to socialize Chile. The government met stiff opposition from the upper and middle classes, and finally the military.

In New York, the U.N. Security Council said it would meet Monday to consider a Cuban complaint against the military junta. The Cubans charge that Chile attacked a Cuban freighter off the Chilean coast and also the Cuban embassy in Santiago. Reversing Allende policy, the junta broke diplomatic relations with Cuba and said that Marxism would be "exterminated" in Chile.

Allende's widow, Hortensia Bussi de Allende, in the Mexican Embassy in Santiago, said in an interview with a Mexican journalist that she saw her husband for the last time at supper Monday night. She was quoted as saying she was awakened at 7:40 a.m. Tuesday by a call from Allende, who was at the Presidential palace.

The account said she quoted her husband as telling her: "The situation has become grave, the Navy rebelled. I am going to stay here. You stay at home."

Later, the Air Force bombed the suburban residence as well as the downtown presidential palace.

Mrs. Allende was quoted as saying that when the planes bombing her residence returned to base for more ammunition, "we left through a school behind the residence. The nuns let us through their interior patio."

There Are Many Uses For Baby's Bassinet

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — N. K. who wants to reuse her baby's no longer needed bassinet can have a heavy plywood or very heavy cardboard top made to fit over the top of the bassinet. Make a floor-length table cover and use the bassinet as a night stand or lamp table. Baby's outgrown clothing could be stored inside.—C. D. H.

DEAR POLLY — Our baby's bassinet is still kept in her room and it is where we stash away stuffed toys and dolls when they are not in use. They stay clean-er and last longer when they

DEAR POLLY — N. K. neither has to discard nor store her baby's outgrown bassinet. It can be made into a dressing table for the powder room, bathroom or the little girl's room. It may already have a skirt. Get a piece of plywood cut to fit over the top and fasten this on. Cover with fabric to match the skirt and then get a piece of glass cut to fit the top as a protection for the fabric. Hang a mirror above it and have a beautiful dressing table or keep the bassinet in the laundry room and put washed and dried clothes in it until they are

Memory Like Filter

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a filter.

It sifts out much of the sadness of the past; it enhances the bright colors of our cheerful yesterdays and makes them dearer with each passing year. We are fortunate indeed that memory has this filterlike quality for if it were like a klieg light or a microscope, the past would stand out too starkly and its buried events be emphasized too nakedly. Instead of helping us through life, memory might kill us with shame and regrets.

By and large, you've got a pretty good collection of memories if you can look back and remember when — You could read the front page of a newspaper without feeling that the whole world was going to hell.

For $10,000 or less, you could buy the best house on most of the city blocks in America, and you could get a 25-year mortgage for 6 per cent interest.

Baseball really was the national pastime, and only rich people or freaks were interested in playing golf or tennis. A congressman's mail consisted mostly of letters from constituents asking him to mail them free garden seeds, a prerogative he no longer enjoys.

In a large family, while grace was being said before meals, a wise child used this pause to glance at the meat platter to see which piece he'd try to get.

A man was regarded as reasonably successful if he died debt-free and left enough to pay for his funeral expenses.

Almost every American, young or old, knew what part of a cow's body gave milk and how many milk faucets she had. Do you know?

Because they were born free and owed no fealty to tyrant lords or creeds, Americans felt sure they were more than equal, man for man, to any other people on earth.

When a woman walked passed you, her undergarments made a mysterious rustling that was part of the feminine mystique. It was like the sound of a soft and friendly electricity made audible.

An only daughter was always called "Sis," and a boy named after his father was known as "Junior" or "Young Bob."

A man was valued more for his character than his cash. Those were the days — remember?

Chas. Cowper Of Patterson Near 100th Birthday

PATTERSON — Charles Cowper, retired farmer and one of Greene county's oldest residents, will observe his 100th birthday anniversary this month. Mr. Cowper was born at Winchester Sept. 22, 1873, the son of George and Elizabeth Cheney Cowper, who came to this country from England and who met on board the ship in which they made the journey. His parents died when their family of four boys and two girls were young. Mr. Cowper came to Greene county at an early age and has always resided northwest of Patterson, with exception of two years when the family lived in Missouri following his marriage in October of 1895 to Claudia Romine. The latter died in September of 1954. They were parents of four children. Mr. Cowper is the last of his immediate family.

His descendants include a son, Bertie of Morton and daughter, Mildred Wilkinson of Patterson with whom he makes his home. There are 9 grandchildren, 28 great grandchildren and ten great, great grandchildren.

Two daughters, Lillie Kennedy and Edna Marie Crabtree, are deceased.

REPORT BOLSTERS FUTURES PRICES

CHICAGO (AP) — Commodity futures prices were strong on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

A major factor in the re-kindled buying was a government report, issued late Thursday, which indicated an increase in export commitments of corn and soybeans the previous week. While a shade lower, wheat commitments were considered constructive.

The buying element on the opening was mixed and very active in all pits. Wheat futures rose 18 cents a bushel on the opening while soybeans gained 15 cents, corn 7 cents and oats 5 cents.

Soybean meal advanced the limit of $10 a ton then eased under profit-taking and soybean oil prices rose some 50 points, or 1/2 cent a pound.

After the demand had been satisfied on the opening, there was some quick profit-taking by overnight longs and prices in the major pits retreated from the early highs. The gains were about halved.

There appeared to be no other particular influence on prices although some sellers still quoted Tuesday's crop report, in which record yields were indicated this year for wheat, corn and soybeans.

After about an hour, wheat was 5 to 8 cents a bushel September 5.23; corn was 2 1/2 to 4 higher, September 2.47; oats were 1 1/2 to 5 higher, September 1.18 1/2 and soybeans were unchanged to 13 higher, September 6.20.

Business—Market Wrapup

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — Are bankers contriving to steal business from stock brokers?

A growing number of securities people, including the head of the New York Stock Exchange, think so. Their complaints are getting louder and a nasty conflict seems inevitable.

The instrument of the banks' involvement is the so-called automatic investment service or automatic investment plan that permits customers to buy stocks directly from the bank.

Investors are offered a choice of 25 blue chip stocks that can be accumulated automatically through monthly deductions from the bank account. The sums range from about $25 to as much as $500.

The bank then can lump together all the purchases and obtain a volume commission when it buys the stocks. In addition to the small commission, the customer pays a monthly service charge of about 5 per cent.

Such plans are in keeping with the long-range goal of commercial banks to promote themselves as the super-markets of financial services. You may have noticed their slogans: one-stop banking, full-service bank, etc.

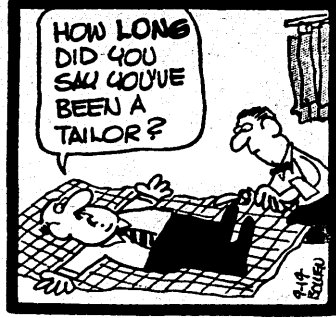

The brokers maintain that the plans do a disservice to them — and probably to customers too.

James Needham, chairman of the New York Exchange, complained this week to the comptroller of the currency that the banks might be violating the Glass-Seagall Act.

This act restricts the selling and distribution of securities by banks, limiting such activities to mere accommodation of customers. Most people, including some bankers, didn't know banks could buy or sell at all.

The right always was there, but the banks never advertised it. Then brokers began turning away small customers, and some bankers began musing over how to accommodate them.

Needham said in his letter to Comptroller James Smith, "To our knowledge, no effort is being made by the banks to counsel these persons on their investment needs, nor is any in-

New York Stock Market

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices moved higher after a slow morning Friday as the market shrugged off news of a 1/4 percentage point rise in the prime interest rate to a new historic high of 10 per cent.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which lost more than 5 points in early trading, climbed steadily higher through the afternoon to finish up 5.79 at 886.36 for the week.

Other market indicators were strong as advancing issues led declines 840 to 547 among the 1,756 issues traded. Volume for the day was moderate. 13.76 million shares were traded Friday, compared with 11.67 million Thursday. There were 20 new highs for the day and 32 new lows.

The boost in the prime lending rate initiated by Wells Fargo Bank late Thursday was followed quickly by other major banks, including First National City Bank, the nation's second largest bank.

Analysts said that many traders had pulled to the sidelines due to the negative news of rising interest rates, tight money and the possibility of a tax boost.

But the market rallied at midday and continued to climb steadily throughout the afternoon.

Brokers said that trading had moved into secondary stocks from the institutional favorites, another sign of market strength.

Eastern Air Lines was the Big Board volume leader, up 1/2 at 7 1/2.

TWA warrants was the Amex volume leader, up 1/2 at 3 1/2.

Crimsons' Defense Earns 20-6 Victory

Lukeman, Crimsons Net 6-3 Soccer Win

Jim Lukeman scored four goals and had a hand in another to pace Jacksonville High School to a 6-3 soccer victory over state-ranked Oak Park Friday evening in the Crimsons' Invitational Soccer Tournament at the JHS field.

New Trier East blanked defending state champion Granite City 3-0 in the first game of the evening.

Play in the tournament continues this morning, with games moving to the MacMurray College field. Granite City goes against Oak Park at 10 a.m. and JHS tangles with New Trier East at 11:30.

Jacksonville, now 2-0 on the young season, jumped off to a quick 2-0 lead in the contest. Lukeman scored unassisted with only 2:30 elapsed and Mark Price scored the same way two minutes later, both goals coming on shots from ten yards out. Oak Park got on the board with 12:00 gone on a goal by Nejat Karca.

After a scoreless second period and 2-1 JHS lead at intermission, the hosts clinched the outcome. Lukeman scored unassisted six minutes into the second half and connected again seven minutes later on a penalty kick.

Montreal Tops Phils By 3-2 Count

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos nicked Philadelphia ace Steve Carlton for three runs in the first two innings Friday night and hung on to defeat the Phillies 3-2, remaining in the thick of baseball's National League East Division race.

It marked the fourth time this season in five outings that the Expos have beaten the Phillies' ace southpaw.

Montreal scored a single run in the first inning when Ron Woods walked with one out, stole second and scored on Bob Bailey's single to center.

The Phillies tied the score in the top of the second after Greg Luzinski was hit by a pitch on the left side of his batting helmet just above the ear. Pitcher Balar Moore then committed a throwing error and walked Mike Schmidt. Tommy Hutton then lined to Ken Singleton who rifled the ball to the plate ahead of pinch-runner Cesar Tovar. But catcher John Boccabella failed to handle the ball and Tovar scored.

Montreal regained the lead in the bottom of the inning when Carlton had some control difficulties. With two out, he walked Moore and Felipe Alou singled the pitcher to second.

Moore then scored on a single by Woods to center and Alou scooted home on Carlton's wild pitch.

NORTON-ALI FIGHT ON TV TODAY

The Ken Norton-Muhammad Ali 12-round heavyweight boxing match held Monday night in Los Angeles, will be shown on television this afternoon.

Pirates Dampen Cards' Hopes, 3-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bob Robertson's check-swing single capped a three-run uprising in the first inning that lifted the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday night.

Pirate right-hander Nelson Briles checked his ex-teammates on eight hits before giving way to reliever Ramon Hernandez in the seventh as Pittsburgh boosted its lead in baseball's National League East to 1 1/2 games over the Montreal Expos.

Frank Walker scored on Lukeman's assist three minutes into the final frame for a 5-1 advantage. George Louie hit for Oak Park before Lukeman added his final goal at the ten minute mark on an assist from goalie Bill versen. Chris Loude hit at 14:43 for Oak Park's final goal.

Second Annual Champions Race In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD — Entries are pouring in for the second Annual Race of Champions at Springfield Sunday afternoon, September 23, on the one mile track.

Last years entries were 102 and it looks as though the field for '73 may be larger. Many of the drivers will be getting their first chance to drive on a mile track and most of them want to get experience on a big track.

The first of the three events will be the Race of Champions. This event will consist of first and second place in the point standings. The second will be the fastest 33 qualifiers and the third will be cars qualifying 34 through 59 plus the first eight places from the 2nd race.

This will give a high point driver a chance to pick up $1500.00 for his afternoons work. Tickets for the event will be on sale at National Auto Service on Morton Avenue.

RIDING HIGH: Steve Taylor (42) of the Illinois School for the Deaf rides high into the line as he is tackled by a host of Calhoun Warriors during action in the Tigers' opener at home Friday afternoon. The Warriors downed ISD, 14-8.

Becker, Warriors Take ISD Opener

Stubborn Tigers Fall In Fourth

By BARNEY FLYNN

Behind the running of senior halfback Roger Becker, the Calhoun Warriors ground out a time-consuming 17 play, 96-yard drive that ended with Becker going over from the one with eight minutes left in the game to boost the Warriors over a stubborn ISD outfit 14-8 Friday afternoon at ISD's field.

The inside-outside running of Becker and some key late defensive plays by end Eric Devening sparked the Warriors, who had fallen behind early in the second quarter to the Tigers. Becker rushed for 154 yards in the game on 25 carries. The 140-pound senior punched up the middle as well as hurting the Tigers on the sweeps. Becker carried the ball ten times for 62 yards in the winning touchdown drive. The Warriors, now 2-0 took the ball at their own six yard line after a fine Tiger punt, on their second series in the second half.

With Becker and fullback Mike Lammy doing all the damage, Calhoun steadily marched up field, pounding around the end and off tackle. Becker, who cuts and uses his blockers well, peeled off runs of 7, 5, 10, 8, 9, 5, 4, 4 and one in the drive that ended with him plunging over the left side for the TD. Lammy was stopped short on the PAT, making it 14-8.

ISD wasn't finished yet though, taking the kickoff and driving to the Warrior 30 before two good stops by Devening lost 11 yards for ISD and ended the threat.

After the kickoff, ISD took over on their 35-yard stripe and on the first play quarterback Tony Heller swept left end for ten yards. Later on a fourth and five situation Heller made a fine run around right end for 28 yards and a first down at the Calhoun 32.

From there Devening broke through to nail Steve Taylor for a four yard loss on second down, and a fourth down dropped Heller as he tried to pass for an eight yard loss to the 39-yard line.

Calhoun, aided by a 35-yard pass play to Lammy was able to run out the clock for the win.

The Tigers showed Calhoun their own ground attack in the first half driving 70-yards in 16 plays for the first score in the game. Steve Taylor gained 26-yards in eight carries and Heller hit Dave Hirsch for 15 yards for the big plays in the drive. Taylor went over from the one for the score with Heller again finding Hirsch down and out on the left side for the PAT and an 8-0 lead, with 6:00 left in the half.

After both teams traded punts, Calhoun got the ball with 1:20 left in the first half. Starting at the Tiger 41-yard marker, Bill Simon hit Becker for 22-yards on a halfback flare pass. Becker then gained 12-yards on two pitchouts off the Wish-bone T option, bringing the ball to the ISD 17. On second down, fullback Lammy went in motion right, and cut down field, catching a strike from Simon at the five and stumbling in for a touchdown. Becker tied it up by slicing off left tackle for the PAT on the next-to-last play of the half.

ISD in its opener was paced on the ground by Taylor with 37-yards on 15 carries, with Heller adding 32 in six tries.

Lammy followed Becker with 36 yards in ten carries and caught two passes for 52-yards. Calhoun finished with 174-yards on the ground, 102 coming in the last half.

Triopia Downs Wildcats, 14-6

WINCHESTER — The Triopia Trojans scored twice in the second period and held on to post a 14-6 victory over Winchester in a non-conference game Friday night.

Triopia, now 2-0, scored early in the second quarter as Gerry Beard punched off tackle for two yards. The run for the extra points was no good.

Mike Crawford accounted for the next Trojan tally as he drove up the middle for one yard and what proved to be the winning touchdown. A Dave Hatfield to Roger Nergenah pass accounted for the final Triopia tally.

The Trojans gained 129 yards to Winchester's 58 on the ground, with Triopia picking up 66 yards through the air and the Wildcats claiming 118.

Winchester's score came in the fourth quarter on a Mike Haines further to Pat Peak pass with the two point try for the PAT failing to penetrate the Trojan defense.

Winchester is now 0-2.

Saukees Continue Winning Ways 33-0

PITTSFIELD — The inexperienced Pittsfield High School football squad played like veterans Friday night as the Saukees rolled to their 64th consecutive victory, a 33-0 blanking of North Greene.

The Saukees, scoring their eighth straight shutout over the Spartans, scored on the second play from scrimmage and added a TD in each period for the triumph, which started a potential eighth straight perfect season and a nation prep record.

Jeff Cox fired 44 yards to Jeff Bunting early in the first frame for the initial Saukee score, with Mike Nevius scooting 20 yards on a pitchout for another six eight seconds from the end of the stanza. Mark Coultas added the running conversion.

Coultas busted across from two yards after Don Bigley rambled 30 yards to set up a second frame score. Mike Nevius raced 47 yards on a pitchout in the third round and Tim Kattelman broke in from one yard away in the fourth, with Mark Shepherd booking one point after.

Pittsfield led 19-0 on first downs and 269-67 in net rushing yards, with Nevius 8-111, Bigley 17-106 and Coultas 11-58. Roger Copley netted 46 yards in 12 carries to pace North Greene.

The victory marked a successful varsity coaching debut for Coach Dennis Heiman.

Dryden Turns Back On Hockey ... Temporarily

MONTREAL (AP) — Ken Dryden, top goaltender in the National Hockey League last season, has turned his back on the game—temporarily at least—due to a contract impasse with the Montreal Canadiens.

Dryden, 26, announced his decision at a personally-conducted news conference Friday after what he described as continued attempts to renegotiate the second year of his two-year pact with the club had failed.

Last season's Vezina Trophy winner had been scheduled to report to the Canadiens' training camp at Kentville, N.S., Monday. But instead he will be in Toronto to work for a law firm there for the next 11 months.

Dryden denied reports that he had already agreed to play for the Toronto Toros of the World Hockey Association in the 1974-5 season.

The Hamilton, Ont., native, a graduate of Cornell and McGill universities, termed his move to the law firm and the withdrawal from hockey "by far the most difficult decision I've made."

Dryden signed his current two-year contract after the 1971-2 season for a figure believed to be in the neighborhood of $80,000 per year. Bonuses and playoff money would have put him in the $100,000 bracket. Jacques Courtois, president of the Canadiens, said in a statement that the management of the hockey club was "very disappointed that Ken Dryden has decided to announce, just a few days prior to training camp, his intention not to abide by his contract."

Trojans March In College Lead

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN, Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California's defending national champions put their No. 1 rating and a 12-game winning streak on the line and lead a contingent of 16 ranking teams into action Saturday as the college football season swings into high gear.

With plenty of talent—as much as last year, Coach John McKay says—to ease heavy personnel losses, the Trojans are solid favorites to defeat a rebuilding Arkansas team under the lights in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Other games involving members of The Associated Press Top Ten find Minnesota at third-ranked Ohio State, fifth-ranked Michigan at Iowa, California at No. 6 Alabama, seventh-ranked Penn State at Stanford for a nationally televised contest—ABC-TV, 3:30 p.m., EDT. Duke at ninth-ranked Tennessee, and, in the only pairing of two Top Twenty teams, No. 10 Colorado at No. 15 Louisiana State.

Besides Arkansas-Southern Cal, the other night games are Cal-Alabama, Duke-Tennessee and Colorado-LSU.

Three members of the Top Ten—second-ranked Nebraska, No. 4 Texas and eighth-ranked Notre Dame—are idle. In the second Ten, it's No. 11 Oklahoma at Baylor, Oregon State at No. 12 Auburn, No. 13 Arizona State at Oregon, Kansas State at No. 14 Florida, Virginia at No. 17 North Carolina

Lolich, Hiller Guide Tigers Over Brewers 2-1

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Lolich and John Hiller teamed on a five-hitter, thwarting Jim Colborn's bid to win his 20th game for Milwaukee, and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Brewers 2-1.

Lolich, 15-13, gave up two hits in the eighth before he was rescued by Hiller, who recorded his 35th save, tying Sparky Lyle's American League record set last year.

Colborn, who entered the game with a 19-9 record, retired the first 12 Tigers before Detroit pelted him for four hits in the fifth.

A bloop single by Duke Sims scored Willie Horton with an unearned run in the fifth and a foul sacrifice fly by Gates Brown in the sixth brought home the other Tiger run.

WARSAW — Brown County Hornets defeated Warsaw High School 12-0 in a West Central Conference game Friday night.

Nixon Inks Law To Ban Blackouts

By TOM SEPPY, AP Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the speed that the measure zipped through Congress, President Nixon signed into law Friday a bill that prohibits a blackout of television home pro football games sold out three days in advance.

Less than 24 hours after the House and Senate approved the measure, Nixon put his signature on the legislation Friday.

The most famous benchmark in Whittier College history signed the bill without fanfare and after Pete Rozelle, pro football commissioner, issued an order lifting the blackout for Sunday's 1973 openers of the National Football League.

Rozelle said eight of the 12 games will be sellouts, and on local television, as will be Monday night's New York Jets-Green Bay contest in Milwaukee.

The Sunday sellouts are Houston and the Giants in New York, Dallas at Chicago, Detroit at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Kansas City, Oakland at Minnesota, St. Louis at Philadelphia and San Diego at Washington.

Those games not sold out are Atlanta at New Orleans, Baltimore at Cleveland, and Buffalo at New England. Fans in the home cities in those cases will not enjoy local TV of their team's games.

The game between San Francisco and Miami, although not completely sold out, will be

Hank Hits Marked Baseballs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Major league pitchers, seeking an extra edge on the batters, are rather pleased when they are accused of throwing spitters.

Whether or not it's true, it gives the batter something else to think about.

Consider the case of Atlanta's Henry Aaron, only four home runs away from tying Babe Ruth's all-time record of 714.

Every time Aaron steps to the plate, the opposing pitcher is holding a ball containing a foreign substance, a violation of baseball rules under a literal interpretation.

The balls are specially marked with an indelible pencil—a foreign substance—and it has the sanction of the National League office.

They were marked for the purpose of identifying them later in the event Aaron smashed a home run into the seats.

The marks cannot be seen by the naked eye but are reflected when a ball is held under a black light.

It all began a week ago when the Cincinnati Reds were in Atlanta to face the Braves. Every time Aaron went to the plate, the ball boy took a new set of baseballs to the plate umpire.

The Braves were on the road Friday night for the first time since they started using the marked balls. Prior to the game scheduled with Cincinnati, General Manager Bob Howsam of the Reds said they planned to use the marked balls during the three-game series.

The Braves began using the marked balls to identify Aaron's home run balls so fans could not pawn off a counterfeit.

The Atlanta club has announced it will give money to fans who return balls Aaron has hit out of the park. For example, $711 for homer No. 711, etc. It applies only to games played in Atlanta.

televised, the Dolphin management announced.

In an effort to get the bill through Congress, many of the rules were overridden in the House.

The House Rules Committee, the legislative traffic cop, waived the 24-hour layover before sending the bill to the floor.

The House acted on the legislation first with a 346-37 roll call vote at 5:31 p.m. Thursday. Then the bill was sent over to the Senate, where it was taken up on the floor at 5:43 p.m. and approved on a voice vote without a roll-call at 5:58 p.m.

The law will apply for only three football seasons, until Dec. 31, 1975, and then ostensibly will be reviewed by Congress again.

The bill also applies to three other professional team sports—baseball, basketball and hockey.

Blazers, Bulls Swap Players

GRESHAM, Ore. (AP) — The Portland Trail Blazers traded guard Rick Adelman to the Chicago Bulls for a future draft choice and cash, the National Basketball Association club disclosed Friday.

Blazers officials did not reveal the amount of cash nor the draft selection.

Departure of the 6-foot-2 guard from Loyola of Los Angeles leaves Geoff Petrie the lone original member of the Blazers team that joined the NBA in 1970.

Adelman, a five-year veteran, had said Thursday he might not report to the Blazers' fall camp if he and the club hadn't reached agreement on a new contract.

Gagliano And Tolan Power Cincinnati 7-6

CINCINNATI (AP) — Phil Gagliano drilled a two-out, two-run single, tying the score in the bottom of the ninth inning, and Bobby Tolan followed with the winning hit to give Cincinnati a 7-6 victory over Atlanta Friday night.

Atlanta carried a 6-4 lead into the ninth but Pete Rose started the winning rally with a one-out single. After Joe Morgan walked, George Foster filed out but Johnny Bench walked, loading the bases.

Gagliano followed with his single, tying the score and then Tolan delivered the decisive single.

Dave Johnson's 41st home run and Darrell Evans' 39th helped the Braves to their early lead.

Johnson's solo shot in the fourth put the Braves ahead 2-1 and moved him within one home run of the major league baseball record for second basemen in one season, set in 1922 by Rogers Hornsby.

Evans' homer came in the fifth, igniting a three-run uprising. Dick Dietz' two-run pop fly double scored two runs when it bounced past rookie right fielder Ken Griffey.

The Reds coupled four straight hits with two out in the fifth for a pair of runs. Pinch-hitter Larry Stahl doubled and consecutive singles by Rose, Morgan and Dan Driessen produced the runs.

Hank Aaron singled home Ralph Garr in the first inning. It was Aaron's only hit in four at-bats.

Industry Gains 20-6 Victory Over Bluejays

Industry then went ahead to stay when Greul recovered a blocked punt in the end zone. The final tally came when Eldon Lindsey plunged over from the 3-yard mark. Lindsey scored the points after on a run.

Bluffs are now 1-2 on the year. Score by quarters:

The Minnesota victory pulled the Twins into a virtual tie with the White Sox for third place in baseball's American League West.

Bobby Darwin and Jim Holt hit home runs on consecutive pitches from loser Stan Bahnsen, 18-18, in the fourth inning after George Mitterwald's two-run single in the second had started the Twins' scoring.

Former Highlanders Now Soccer Coaches

The heavy slate of area soccer this weekend will feature the influence of soccer at MacMurray College.

In the four-team high school tourney, Oak Park High School is ranked second in the current polls and coached by Dick Trout, graduate of Mac in 1964.

Trout, from Springfield, earned three soccer letters, and four in baseball, in addition to being selected to the All-America soccer team in 1962, along with various All-Midwest and All-Conference Honors. Coach Trout was also MVP for the Clan in the 1964 baseball season. Trout earned his M.A. in History at the University of Arizona. One of the assistant coaches at Oak Park is Doug Hunt, a 1973 Mac grad.

At 2:00 p.m. Saturday on the Highlander soccer field, Northern Illinois University coached by Dave Bucher, Class of 1965, goes against MacMurray's Bob Gay, Class of 1967. Bucher, winner of 11 college letters (3 soccer, 4 track, 4 basketball), co-captain in soccer and track is in his 7th year at NIU, after earning his M.A. from Ohio University, where he served as frosh soccer coach.

Last year's meeting of the two Midwestern powers ended in an overtime tie at DeKalb. All three head coaches are married to MacMurray alums.

The Mac soccer field will host the Oak Park-Granite City contest Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m., and the 11:30 a.m. match featuring New Trier East and J.H.S. Tourney.

Even an official gets into the act. Haig Nighohossian, Class of 1968, won four soccer letters, and currently wrestling coach at East St. Louis Lincoln High School, will work the J.H.S. Tourney.

Senior Citizens Partial To Babe

By MILTON RICHMAN, UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — He describes himself as "an angry 72-year-old" in his letter, and what he's so fired up angry about, he says, is all this "partiality" Hank Aaron is being shown over Babe Ruth.

He's writing from Ashland, Ohio, but that in itself isn't significant, he might just as easily be doing so from Friendship, Tenn., Drumright, Okla., San Anselmo, Calif., or Baraboo, Wis.

The senior citizens around the country feel Babe Ruth is getting the short end of the bat and that nobody really is speaking up for him with Hank Aaron bearing down on his all-time home run record.

"Babe Ruth hit his 714 home runs in 8,399 at bats and Aaron has 710 in 11,247 times up, how can you even compare them?" asks the Ashland letter-writer.

"Ruth did it without helmets; without livelier balls; without better bats and without the longer season."

"True enough, but if this isn't a private fight, Carl Yastrzemski would like to get a couple of words in."

A Hank Aaron Man Right up front he says he's a Hank Aaron man first and foremost.

"If he breaks Ruth's record, and it looks as if he will, I say it has to be the greatest accomplishment in the entire history of sports," says Boston's sweet-swinging 10-time all-star.

"Ruth never had to play night ball. He never had to contend with the slider either. It's so difficult to pick up the good hard slider under the lights. The ball is just a blur. In the daytime though, you can pick up the spin on the ball, and if you don't think that makes a tremendous difference, go ask someone like Stan Musial. I think Musial said it all when he explained how the entire game has changed from the time when he broke in. Stan said all he used to see when he first came up was fast ball. curve. That was all he used to look for. But when the pitchers added the slider, he said there was a whole different concept. It made hitting the ball all that harder."

Yastrzemski comes into the Aaron-Ruth debate with some credentials of his own.

Since reporting to the Red Sox 12 years ago, he has belted 284 home runs of his own to put him 15th on the list among active players and 41st on the all-time list.

Makes Up for Advantage "Night baseball more than makes up for any advantage people say Aaron has over Ruth," says Yaz. "In my opinion anyway. How many day games has Aaron played the past few years? Not very many. Ball players from the old days say riding the trains was much rougher than riding the planes we do today."

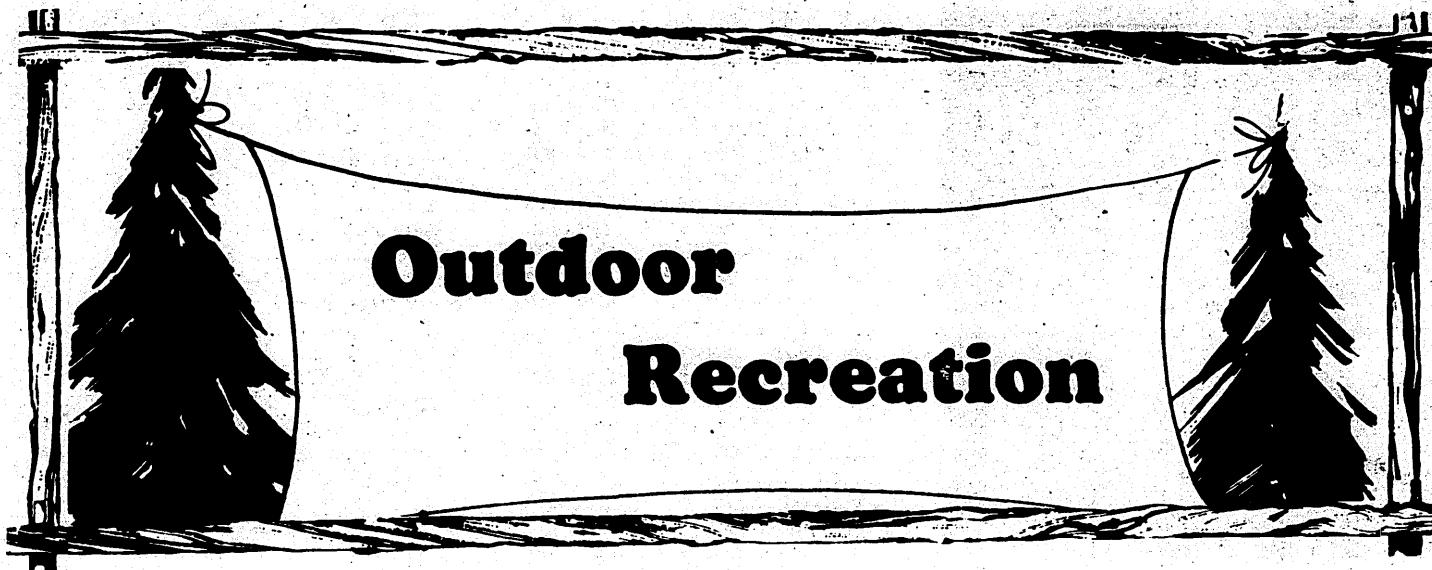

"I don't know about that, and I've ridden some trains, too. I know a lot of players who don't like riding airplanes. I'm not that crazy about them either, but I know I have to do it. I think that makes for a little added pressure."

"I never saw Babe Ruth," adds the Red Sox 34-year-old superstar. "The only way I've gotten to know anything about him is through Mr. Yawkey (Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey)."

He told me what a great ballplayer he was and how he had a heart as big as a clubhouse. When I was supposed to go to the All-Star Game before I got hurt a little while back, Mr. Yawkey gave me a message to deliver to Hank Aaron, though.

"He wanted to make sure Hank got it personally, and since he knows most of the mail sent him ends up with his personal secretary," he asked me if I'd hand-carry the message. I said sure, but because of the injury, I never got to go to Kansas City. Mr. Yawkey wanted me to wish Hank all the luck in the world and tell him he was pulling for him to break the record. I feel the same way. I check out Hank every day to see how he's doing. I hope he makes it this year."

Free Family Type Outdoor Show To Be Held In Peoria

PEORIA, Ill. — An outdoor potpourri, from fly casting to wilderness canoeing, will be offered free to the public Sunday, Sept. 23, when Peoria area clubs observe National Hunting and Fishing Day.

About 25 clubs, representing all phases of outdoor recreation, have pooled efforts for a family type show running from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Keystone Employee's Leisure Oaks Park.

The 120-acre layout, that includes two ponds, is situated west of Peoria, more precisely two miles west of Bellevue off Illinois Route 116, then one mile south on Cameron Lane. The area is located 200 yards south and across the road from the Peoria Motorcycle Club Track. Signs will mark the way.

There'll be exhibit booths, action shows and skills centers to entertain and instruct the public at 14 locations.

Beneath a large shelter, there'll be exhibits of birds, prairie grasses, taxidermy, wildlife, fish smoking, treasure finding, wildlife paintings, and other similar subjects.

As individuals walk around the lakes and follow numbers as marked on the programs which will be passed out at the entrance, they'll be able to see competition among scuba divers, coon dogs in water races, archery, trap, pistol and black powder shooting.

Action shows will include log rolling, bird and retriever dog demonstrations, a bow hunting clinic, camping, wilderness canoeing, a fishing clinic, reloading and shooting instruction.

At the fishing clinic, all phases of the sport will be covered. Experts will be on hand to answer questions and help with casting techniques. The $20,000 Bass Boat, featured this year at the big Chicago Boat and Sportsmen's shows will be on exhibit.

Bob Fidler of Canton, an experienced canoeist who in 1972 paddled the entire length of the Albany River in the bush of northern Ontario and recently completed a 35-day venture by canoe on Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories, will show how to paddle and cook in the wilderness.

His group will prepare such dishes as fish gravy and fish chilli, plus bannock, a cake-like bread. A 77-year-old trapper who has spent a lifetime in the arctic showed them how to make it.

Mark Olson, now a Peorian who formerly resided in Michigan's lumber country and competed in the world log rolling championships at Hayward, Wis., several times, will show the art of birling, a sport once popular among lumberjacks.

Bruce Matteson, fast-rising young wildlife artist, will display several of his paintings at the Ducks Unlimited booths. He has painted several color covers of the D. U. magazine and his work is on display in various spots of the country.

Black powder shooters will turn back the calendar to the days of coonskin caps and buckskin. They'll show how great grand dad hunted with musket.

There are many more similar attractions for those with outdoor interests.

Last year, the country observed National Hunting and Fishing Day for the first time. Bills unanimously passed the House and Senate and were signed by President Richard Nixon on May 2. Some 3,000 clubs involved over four million citizens in open houses to teach them outdoor skills and show them what the outdoor sportsmen have done for conservation through the years.

National Boating Fed. Opposes Proposed Amateur Athletic Act

In a recent memo to its members, the National Boating Federation urges organizations who in any manner sponsor, control, supervise and participate in races, regattas or other marine amateur sports competitions to oppose proposed Congressional legislation to superimpose federal controls on organized amateur athletic competition in the United States and internationally wherever U.S. citizens are involved.

In issue is S.2365 and the August 3rd amendment thereto, known as the Amateur Athletic Act of 1973, recently cleared by the Senate Commerce Committee for a vote by the Senate, and also H. R. 9899, H. R. 9089,

H. R. 9171 and H. R. 9177 pending in the House.

In NBF's opinion, setting up an independent federal agency to regulate all organized amateur athletic competition within the United States, including the right to even hold such a competition, is a flagrant case of overkill. It impringes upon constitutional rights of traditional freedoms in boating, and threatens to play havoc with the established order of holding races, regattas and other competitions under U.S. Coast Guard and state supervision, which has served the safety, well being and good sportsmanship of amateur boatmen so well.

The Power Of Suggestion

Under the heading of "Follow these rules..." in the U.S. Forest Service information brochure on canoe trips in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area, Superior National Forest, Minn., there is an item which reads: "The use of firearms is discouraged; use your camera." Another brochure states: "Do not discharge firearms in or near campsites or over water. Better yet, leave your firearms at home," and, "Guns have no place on canoe trips. Leave them home."

The message is abundantly clear: If you're planning a canoe trip in these waters don't plan to bring any firearms along. It is not clear, however, whether it's against the law to possess a firearm in a National Forest. The truth? No such law exists. Indeed, National Forests are a primary source of public hunting land in America.

Presumably, the Boundary Waters Canoe Area is an isolated situation. But it provides a most disturbing precedent. By simply advising sportsmen, through an official publication, that it's not a good idea to bring along a firearm, shooting is effectively discouraged. Although these anti-hunting suggestions are not legally binding, their impact is powerful. No law-abiding sportsman wants to be seen as a rule-breaker in the eyes of federal officialdom.

Firearms safety regulations published by the Forest Service should, of course, be carefully observed. They make sense. Attempting to discourage one of the prime recreational uses of national forest lands by bureaucratic suggestion makes no sense at all.

Black Powder Bill Passes

Senator Bayh's pro-shooter bill, S.1083, which lifts the 5-pound purchase limit on commercially manufactured black powder intended for sporting or cultural use—the latter referring to the cannon fire in Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture, for example—passed the Senate on July 12 by a vote of 78-8.

The bill's major opponents, Senators Edward Kennedy and Jacob Javits, both outspoken opponents of firearms ownership and use, lost on a motion to recommit the bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee by a vote of 76-14, thus virtually assuring passage of the legislation.

55 Million To Be Honored

MINNEAPOLIS — National Hunting and Fishing Day this year is Saturday, September 22. The U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife will pay tribute to the Nation's 55 million hunters and fishermen on this day by holding "Open House" at many National Wildlife Refuges and Fish Hatcheries.

Charles Hughlett, Acting Regional Director of the Bureau's North Central Region in Twin Cities, Minnesota, says the tribute is fitting since the Nation's fish and wildlife is indebted to the conservation efforts of hunters and anglers. Through their purchase of licenses and payment of taxes on equipment, dollars are derived for the preservation and management of habitat.

Hughlett said, "Dollars spent to hunt and fish have benefited non-game animals as well as those animals sought by hunters and fishermen." He continued his praise of these people by saying, "They are a large part of the Nation's real conservationists because they were among the first to realize the need to save land and water."

The Bureau and other conservation agencies utilize hunting and fishing in their management programs to harvest animals that would otherwise die due to overpopulation and habitat limitations.

As a result, recreation is provided to millions of hunters and fishermen. Bird watchers, photographers and others who appreciate nature benefit by having lands available for their enjoyment.

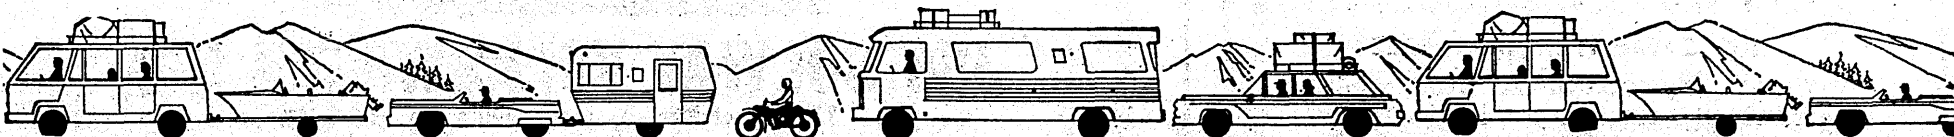

Public Use—Private Land

Nothing threatens the future of public outdoor recreation more than the appearance of NO HUNTING, NO FISHING, NO TRESPASSING and POSTED signs. In New York State, where 90 per cent of the fish and wildlife resources are located on privately owned land, sportsmen, landowners and lawmakers got together in 1957 to halt the spread of posting. The resulting Fish and Wildlife Management Act is an Empire State landmark in the fight to preserve the tradition of free public hunting and fishing on private lands.

Sixteen years after its passage, this law has made 460,000 (Turn To Page Two)

Watts Bar Study To Evaluate Impact Of Bass Tournament

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The All-American BASS Tournament on Watts Bar Lake in eastern Tennessee on September 26-28 has been selected by a team of fisheries biologists to determine the effects of tournament fishing on reservoirs, according to Ray Scott, president of the sponsoring Bass Anglers Sportsman Society, a 132,000 member fishing - conservation organization headquartered here.

The study is designed to estimate the number of large, catchable bass in the reservoir and evaluate the impact of fishing tournaments on reservoir fish populations.

The effects of tournament on the bass population in a reservoir cannot be evaluated without some idea of the number of bass present, said Jack Holbrook, Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) fisheries biologist in charge of the project. We don't know whether Watts Bar has 3,000 or 300,000 catchable (12-inch plus) bass in it.

Starting September 10, the study group will begin a shocking, marking operation to hopefully tag 500 catchable bass prior to the tournament. Daily catches during the tournament weigh-ins, September 26-28, will be monitored to check for tagged bass before they are released back into the reservoir alive.

B.A.S.S. has cooperated with state fish and game departments in Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee in other studies on previous bass tournaments to evaluate a catch-and-release program of tournament-caught bass and extensive delayed mortality studies, but this will be the first time a large reservoir has been acres of formerly inaccessible land available for public enjoyment. In return for opening their property, the 1,250 cooperating landowners receive technical advice on wildlife management, protection of property through established safety zones around buildings and crops and increased law enforcement. Not only are sportsmen able to enjoy use of the land, but the State is able to manage scientifically all of its fish and game resources — not just those on public lands.

Cooperative programs like the one in New York are the key to the future of hunting and fishing in many areas of the country. Rapid development of similar plans in other states can mean the difference between welcome mats and locked doors in years to come.

All American B.A.S.S. Tournament

In the 1972 Tennessee National BASS Tournament, the contestants weighed in almost 1,000 bass during the three-day event. Under rules of the Bass Anglers Sportsman Society's national tournaments, fishermen are awarded bonus points for live fish weighed-in. The bass are carefully scored, checked in a chemically-treated holding tank, and released back into the lake. Since the Society's "Don't Kill Your Catch" program was initiated at national B.A.S.S. sponsored tournaments last year, released alive to spawn and thrill other bass fishermen.

Regulated bass fishing tournaments are becoming more of a tool for collecting data for the study of large reservoir management, and may result in better fishing.

Holbrook said, "The increased popularity of bass fishing tournaments has given fisheries biologists the opportunity to collect large numbers of adult bass. Until now, these fish have been difficult to obtain."

The marking operation on Watts Bar will involve a half dozen boats equipped with electronic equipment designed to stun the bass long enough for biologists to catch and mark the fish. "The shocking does not harm the fish," pointed out Holbrook. "It just stuns them and during the time they are unconscious, we measure and mark them."

During the All-American tournament, scale samples will be taken in an additional growth study. The distribution of growth rings on scales enables fishery biologists to determine how fast the fish have grown.

Holbrook said, "After we determine the number of larger bass in Watts Bar and the rate of growth — then we can more clearly define the impact of fishing tournaments on the bass population.

Watts Bar covers some 39,000 surface acres with 783 miles of shoreline. It is noted for excellent smallmouth bass fishing with a good population of largemouth bass. In June 1972, a field of 196 anglers creelied 982 bass weighing 1,526 lbs. Big bass of the contest was a largemouth weighing seven pounds.

An elite field of some 200 national bass anglers will compete in the $21,000 All-American fish-off. The contest is the final qualifying event for the world's Miller High Life BASS Masters Classic that annually is billed as the hook and line World Series of freshwater fishing.

The top 24 scoring anglers in six qualifying tournaments compete for a $15,000 winner-take-all purse on October 24-26 at a "mystery site" announced after the contenders are enroute by air.

The Watts Bar fish-off has a 200-man limit. Entry deadline is September 17. With a full field a purse of $21,365 will be up for grabs with the champion taking home $4,140.

Watts Bar will be off limits to tournament fishermen September 9-22. Official tournament practice will open September 23. The entry fee is $200.

Headquarters for the All-American will be at the Newport Resort near Spring City, Tenn. The tournament is sponsored by the Watts Bar Recreation Association.

For information on the Society's Tournament Trail, contact B.A.S.S. Hqts., P.O. Box 3044, Montgomery, Ala. 36109.

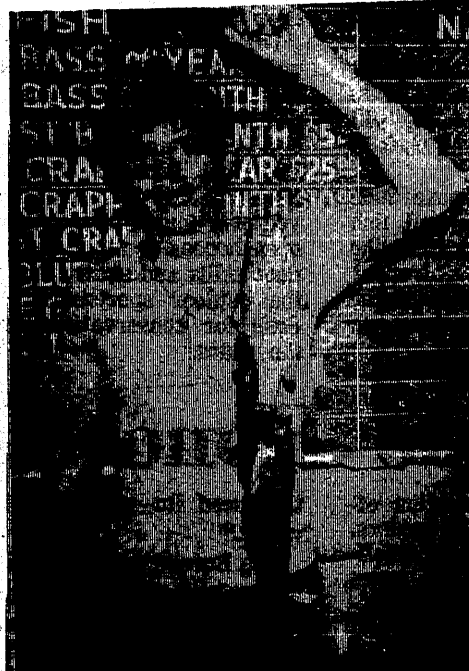

Beef Shortage

How To Beat It

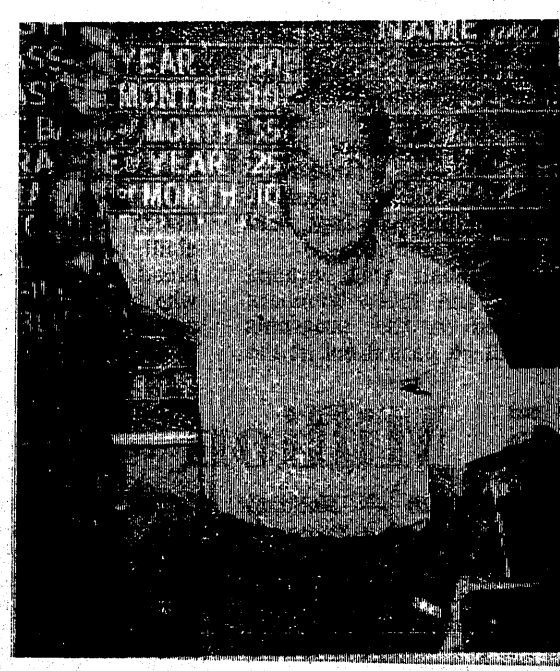

Based on the results of a recent survey, hundreds of thousands of American families will enjoy a particularly pleasant form of relief from the supermarket squeeze and the scarcity of beef this Fall. How? By dining on venison. According to Professor Sidney W. Wilcox of Arizona State University, hunters harvested 1,866,918 deer in the United States during the 1971 season, a number that will surely be equalled or bettered in 1973. The 1971 harvest yielded 98,854,558 pounds of boneless meat. And that much venison valued at the retail price of chuck beef—at least $1.00 a pound in most areas of the country — would be worth some $100 million on the table.

If the simple fact of that much meat supplementing the strained food budgets of American families isn't enough, consider this: The deer harvest is repeated every year without reducing the surviving deer population from one year to the next. Through careful scientific wildlife management, our deer herds are maintained as renewable resources, providing not only millions of dollars in delicious food, but invaluable sport and recreation as well.

James Dobson caught these bass on a Mepps Spinner while fishing near the Spillway at Lake Jacksonville.

Jack O'Brien is out after the big bluegill again. Jack caught this 12 oz. bluegill in an area farm pond on a black Gaper Beetle Spin.

Did you know that fishing is enjoyed by more Illinois residents than any other outdoor activity. Each year over 800,000 licenses are sold to anglers, and fishermen pay their own way.

It's a fact, every time an angler makes a purchase of some new fishing gear he is helping the fishing prospects in his state. And the more he spends the more he helps.

The state receives monies collected via an 11 per cent manufacturers' excise tax placed on fishing rods, reels, artificial lures, baits, and flies.

The tax was originally levied during World War II to produce wartime revenue. After the war, through passage of this act, the money was made available to states based on populations and fishing license sales.

States began receiving Federal money in 1952, as a result of Public Law 681, the Federal Fish Restoration Act, passed by the 81st Congress on August 9, 1950. The law is better known as the Dingell-Johnson Act.

Since the inception of the act Illinois has received $3,809,964.17... last year's allotment for the fisheries division was $336,251.08. In Illinois most of the money is used for development, providing more fishing areas for the angler.

Over the last 50 years hunters have poured 2.3 billion dollars into conservation. Last year, from licenses, duck stamps, and excise taxes, hunters provided over 150 million for wildlife management and practical conservation.

The National Shooting Sports Foundation has launched a "Hunters Pay for Conservation" campaign to inform the non-hunting general public about the unceasing efforts on the part of hunters to promote the wise use of our natural resources. It is a fact — hunters are willing to foot the costs.

Hunters can now purchase "Hunters Pay for Conservation" Patch Kits. A colorful, 3"x12", hunters pay for conservation bumper sticker is available; an attractive enameled pin in the form of a one-inch replica of the "Hunters Pay for Conservation" emblem; and "Hunters Pay for Conservation" mail stickers in the form of Shotgun Shells.

These items are being offered by the NSSF, 1075 Post Road, Riverside, Conn. 06878 at the following prices: enameled pins, $3.50 each; auto bumper stickers, 50c each; mail stickers, $1.00 per hundred.

Bass fishermen be reminded that the Bass Caster's Association (B.C.A.) is holding its second annual National Bass Tournament at Lake Shelbyville on October 6 and 7 of 1973.

All entry monies will be returned after tournament expenses. Cash, prizes, and trophies will be awarded to the first 20 places. In addition, $100.00 and a trophy will be awarded to the contestant catching the largest bass of the tournament.

The entry fee for this B.C.A. tournament will be $25.00 per person. Anyone interested can write to B.C.A. National Headquarters at Box 888, Mattoon, Illinois 61938, or call 217-234-4344.

Ron Haddock, B.C.A. President, assures all B.C.A. members that this will be a bigger than ever B.C.A. Regional Bass Tournament with plenty of prize money for the top 20 contestants.

This writer had the privilege of fishing with bass man Steve Goodey last Sunday. We fished fog shrouded Lake Jacksonville and only managed to catch two bass. This writer caught one bass on a Rogers Craw Pap sub-surface lure, and Steve caught his bass on a Creme plastic worm. The fishing has been tough at Lake Jacksonville this year, due to the high water and constant changes in the weather.

If you can go — be sure to take in the free outdoor show Sunday, Sept. 23, just west of Peoria. About 25 Peoria area clubs representing all phases of outdoor recreation will be putting on the free family type outdoor show.

Illinois Outdoors

By VIC WATIA

REND LAKE, Ill. (UPI)—Sometimes a person plans a fishing trip and nothing seems to go right.

Perhaps that was why I was lingering in the Sportsman Bait Shop over a mug of hot coffee, feeling sorry for myself while others were ignoring the rain to fish.

I should have been at Lake Monroe, Ind., that very moment getting ready to kick off in a pro bass fishing tournament. But that tournament was canceled because its sponsors, Bass Casters Association, were the victims of a recently passed Indiana law preventing the gathering of large private groups on state property.

The law apparently was aimed at preventing things such as rock festivals, but it knocked out what would have been BCA's largest pro tournament.

"Oh, they were willing to bend the law a little," BCA President Ron Haddock told me when I stopped in Mattoon to say hello. "They would have let us hold the tournament if we agreed to pay $10 a head for each entry, but as far as we're concerned, a law is a law and it's either good or bad. If it's bad, it has to be changed."

Indiana, which has long been wanting to promote interest in its outdoor facilities, probably came out the loser.

"It really screwed me up," said Ray Fuller, a pro who follows the tournament trail. "I had made my motel reservations and planned time off from work when I got my notice the tournament was canceled. It sure left a bitter taste in my mouth."

Other bass fishermen throughout the country probably felt the same when they received similar notices. So Indiana lost some good tourist revenue, and Rend Lake was picking it up. A few of the pros had come here to prepare for a tournament being sponsored Sept. 22 and 23 on Rend Lake by Lunken Unlimited, a Chicago-area bass club.

The tournament, slated to become an annual event, promises a good purse for the winner and the club has a selection of trophies and other prizes that should entice a good number of bassmen. Each entry for the event costs $25 and must be postmarked by Sept. 17. They should be sent to Pete Ishmiel, Mokena, Ill., 60448. Additional information may be had by calling Ishmiel at 312-479-9285.

That was why I had come to Rend Lake. I had four days on my hands and it seemed like the logical choice with the Monroe tournament canceled.

However, it also was one of those weekends when fishing partners I had lined up to go along on the trip had something come up at the last minute. To make matters worse, Wayne Wendling, who I can usually entice into a few hours of fishing, was busy putting the finishing touches on a restaurant he was adding to the Sportsman.

Program & Activities Chairman

Last Saturday the Jacksonville Bass Club held its member-guest tournament on Lake Jacksonville. The weather was as much of a challenge, if not more so, than the fishing. Dick Sellars and his son, Rick, came in with top honors weighing in 4 bass that totalled out at 5 lb. 7 oz. Jim Powers and his guest came in for second with 1 lb. 9 oz. Third place was Bob Hunt and his guest with 1 lb. 6 oz.

Jacksonville Bass Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, Sept. 10. The activities for the balance of the season were discussed and the chairmen assigned to each event. Trophies were awarded to the 3 top fishermen of August. Top honors went to Bob Kavanaugh, second place to Bob McDonald and third place to Bob Hunt. "Largest Bass of the month" trophy was awarded to Bob Kavanaugh, for his 5 lb. 2 oz. Lunker, caught in the Lake Jacksonville Inter-Club Tournament on August 11.

The Bass Club was honored Monday evening with the presence of Mr. Allen Booth, factory representative for the Rogers lure Co. and Silver-troll Electric Motors. Mr. Booth presented the members with

"Maybe we can get out for a few hours this afternoon," he told me.

But then the rain had come. Not a simple drizzle, but a downpour that would put a couple of inches in a boat in no time at all. And the rumble of thunder certainly might drive the bass down to stay.

It was about then that Red McClelland of Decatur walked in the door. He had driven down with the intention of fishing, and looked like the type who would be an interesting partner.

"I don't know if I can put us on some bass or not," I told him, after introducing myself. "But if you want to go with me instead of fishing alone, we'll give it a try."

The rain stopped long enough for us to launch my boat, but continued throughout the morning in occasional bursts. I tried, but couldn't locate the bass.

But Red was the type of person one enjoys fishing with even when the rain is coming so hard its difficult to drive a boat.

Fishing with him that morning seemed to brighten the day—a good fishing partner always does.

many new ideas such as new types of lures, fishing procedures, habits of fish, etc. Mr. Booth gave an excellent presentation and we hope to have him back in the near future.

On Sunday, September 16, the Bass Club will hold an Inter-Club tournament on Lake Shelbyville from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The latest reports show that bass fishing has been very lucrative on Shelbyville Lake and the members that will be fishing in the tournament are looking forward to catching their limit. Bob Hunt and Charlie Bowen are the chairmen for this tournament, and at last report had everything well organized.

Bass club will meet and fish out of west access area dam Lake Shelbyville.

Our annual dance will be held on Saturday, November 10, at the Elks Club. The "Playmates" of Beardstown will entertain. Tickets will be available soon through all Bass Club members.

Our membership now stands at 45 with 5 more to go before our membership closes. If you are a bass enthusiast ask any member why he belongs to the Jacksonville Bass Club

Boating News

Reports from the states indicated boating accidents this spring are slightly increased due to wide spread flooding in the upper mid-west which greatly increased boat usage often under unfavorable conditions.

The reports also noted that voluntary educational programs are reaching greatly increased numbers of boatmen through state-coordinated courses, safety literature and media messages.

Representatives of the 2nd and 9th Coast Guard Districts reported that both Districts are holding meetings and briefings for marine manufacturers in their Districts regarding the requirements of the Boat Safety Act.

Funding of the state grant program under the Boat Safety Act has been approximately half of the Congressional authorization due to the tight federal budget. Several discussions of the administrators involved methods of increasing this amount to the full $7.5 million dollars authorized.

Legislative Roundup

MICHIGAN — A slow-in wake speed limit for pleasure craft has been put into effect on certain southeast Michigan waters, following complaints from shoreline property owners that waves from passing boats were seriously undermining docks, breakwalls, etc. This year's extremely high waters have aggravated the situation. The speed limit is intended as a temporary, emergency measure, but if high waters remain local governments want the limit extended indefinitely. Waters affected include the lower Detroit River, offshore from the cities of Ecorse, Wyandotte, Gibraltar, Trenton and Grosse Ile Township, and all navigation waters within Grosse Ile township. Also covered are Shantee Creek, North Maumee Bay, the Ottawa River and Halfway Creek in Erie Township, Monroe County. Exceeding a slow-no wake speed in these waters is subject to a $100 fine and or 90 days in jail.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Which Foods Have Potassium?

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. is one of the basic chemical elements. Everything we know is made up of chemical elements. Such as oxygen, hydrogen, carbon, sodium, potassium, chlorine, zinc, lead, gold, and so on. There are a little over 100 elements.

Our entire body is made of combinations of these chemical elements, so are our household furniture, buildings, automobiles, etc. It is this fact that amuses me when someone tells me that something is harmful because it is "a chemical," for example a given ingredient in a food. Everything we know is "a chemical." This is true whether it's part of a plant, part of an animal, distilled water, spring water, purified water, medicine, poison, "organic food," a food additive or anything else you might want to mention.

In the fluid part of the body, the water in the bloodstream and outside of the cells contains a small amount of sodium which is an element and is the same sodium element that we have in ordinary table salt called sodium chloride. We have about the same amount of sodium salt in our body water as exists in sea water. Inside the cell membrane we have relatively little sodium, and, instead, we have potassium which can occur as a salt called potassium chloride. Both sodium and potassium belong to the same group of chemicals and have a number of similar characteristics.

When the body retains too much sodium we tend to retain excess fluid and this can cause edema, swelling and other problems. Many medicines are used to eliminate sodium through the kidneys and, with it, eliminate the accumulation of water. Some of these medicines also eliminate potassium, and then we lose potassium from the cells.

In order to maintain good health, one needs a normal amount of potassium inside the cells. These chemicals are necessary for normal function of the cells. The heart muscle won't contract normally, or act normally, if you have a deficiency in potassium. If you have too much potassium the electrical activity of the heart may even be stopped. There is a proper balance of almost everything in the body, and this includes sodium and potassium. Potassium, as a salt, is commonly used as a salt substitute for people who need to avoid sodium.

A deficiency of either sodium or potassium can cause a lot of vague symptoms, including excessive fatigue. A large glass of orange juice three times a day will usually provide about the same amount of potassium as prescribed in most medical conditions. Orange juice is probably the best natural source of potassium and contains considerably more potassium per weight than do bananas and most other fruits. In general, however, the fruits are an excellent source of potassium. I usually favor instructing people to drink three large glasses of orange juice a day if they need additional potassium in their intake, unless, of course, there is some medical reason why they can't use orange juice.

Only San Francisco, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, and Newark still have streetcars.

Still I suppose I had better try to make five." He ruffed the heart in dummy while making his speech. Then he led dummy's 10 of spades. East played low and South let West score his singleton queen.

West did the best he could by cashing his ace of diamonds, but that was the last trick for the defense.

Of course, South could have made seven if he had wanted to play for it and known the trump situation. After winning the first spade he could have returned to dummy with a low club; finesse against East's jack of trumps and splashed down.

How should he have played the hand if he had been in six? Just that way. It was both the best percentage and the play that would work.

LAND O' LAKES, Fla. (AP) — Roadside vegetable vendor Johnny Benjamin says he's found a way to turn fake money into the real thing.

Benjamin says he buys a wad of $1 play bills for 10 cents, then spreads them on the edge of the highway in front of his vegetable stand.

"People stop and grab the money and see it's not real," he says. "They usually laugh. They know they've been had when they see me laughing with them."

Then Benjamin says he asks if they need any tomatoes, corn or whatever he's got for sale. Benjamin says he took in $80 one day recently, and he insists that "no one has been mad at my little trick yet."

Shawneetown Port Finally Gets Funds

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (UPI) — The Shawneetown Regional Port District, born a dozen years ago through an act by the legislature, may finally have come of age Monday.

Gov. Daniel Walker signed one House bill which gives the port district the authority to lease property it acquires or constructs.

He changed by amendatory veto another bill which would have loaned $2 million to the district to start building a new coal terminal.

Walker said he cut the amount sought to $1 million because "the amount of the loan authorized is more than can be utilized by the Shawneetown Regional Port District this fiscal year."

He also changed some wording to make it possible for the district to issue revenue bonds, something Walker said could not be done the way the original bill was worded.

The changes must be approved by the legislature.

Can Get Moving

Don Atkins, port district manager, while disappointed that the governor cut the authorized loan fund from $2 million to $1 million, said the state loan together with an Economic Development Administration grant of $2.334 million, if approved, can get the port district project moving.

The state loan and federal grant, he said, would clear the way for issuance of revenue bonds to acquire coal loading facilities now owned by the Peabody Coal Co. at Old Shawneetown.

The port district would then lease the facility to Peabody and build a new coal terminal that would connect with the Peabody facility to serve other coal companies in the area.

"I believe the coal loading facility, by making cheaper barge transportation available, would unlock huge coal reserves in the area and open up some new coal mines," Atkins said.

First and Only

Atkins said the port, the first and only along 103 miles of the Ohio River in Illinois, ultimately hopes also to handle grain, fertilizer, chemicals and petroleum and include barge repair facilities and a marina.

A feasibility study predicts the facility would generate as many as 600 new jobs. Atkins said he believes some 15 southeastern Illinois counties would feel the economic impact of the port.

"Job generation. That's essentially the idea of the whole thing for an economically depressed area," said Atkins, who took the port district manager job in January, 1971, after 12 years in rural redevelopment work in Jacksonville where he also formerly served as manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Atkins said the district hopes to issue some $5 million in revenue bonds to complete the first phase of the project.

LISZT PIECES ON CAMERA THREE

Three pieces by the Hungarian composer Franz Liszt, all written during a crucial period of his life, are performed in "Liszt in Mid-Life at Mid-Century" on "Camera Three" Sunday, Sept. 16 10-10:30 a.m. on CBS.

As the 19th-century reached its mid-point and Liszt reached age 40, he composed three pieces which reflect, in turn, his own corruption, his incessant traveling and his search for spiritual consolation at the time.

Lydia Bruce, who plays Dr. Maggie Powers in NBC-TV's "The Doctors," recently co-starred with her actor husband, Leon B. Stevens, in the comedy, "Mary, Mary," in East Windsor, Conn.

ABC will present an adaptation of Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" starring Sir Laurence Olivier and his wife, Joan Plowright, sometime during this season as a three-hour program. The play was filmed during the summer in England under the Independent Television Corporation's agreement with the National Theater From England (Old Vic).

Betty Garrett and not Sada Thompson has the continuing role of the Bunkers' new neighbor in the CBS "All in the Son," notable Broadway actress, started work in the series but left by mutual agreement when she decided she couldn't stay away from her family in New York.

MONTE MARKHAM STARS IN NEW PERRY MASON

"The New Perry Mason," starring Monte Markham as Erle Stanley Gardner's famous fictional attorney, Perry Mason, will have its premiere 6:30 - 7:30 Sunday, Sept. 16 on CBS.

Harry Guardino co-stars as Mason's courtroom adversary, Hamilton Burger, the district attorney of Los Angeles. Sharon Acker is Mason's secretary, Della Street. Albert Stratton plays private detective Paul Drake, Dane Clark is Lt. Arthur Tragg of the Los Angeles homicide squad, and Brett Somers portrays Gert-rude, Mason's receptionist.

As is traditional with Perry Mason, the famed barrister each week will defend a man accused of murder — a man Mason is convinced is innocent. Through his questioning of witnesses and his examination of evidence, both in and out of the courtroom, Mason will attempt to build a case that both proves his client's innocence and reveals the guilty party.

George Reinholt, who has a leading role as businessman Steven Frame in NBC-TV's "Another World," also is a poet and has had many of his works published in magazines.

Gail Kobe, associate producer of NBC-TV's "Return to Peyton Place," was a member of the original cast of the nighttime "Peyton Place."

The Professional Golfers Association and ABC have a new three-year agreement that extends the network's coverage of the annual PGA championship through 1976.

BARNABY JONES, MANNIX BRING TWO-FOLD SUSPENSE

Mike Connors and Buddy Ebsen return in their starring roles as two private investigators with highly contrasting styles and very different methods when "The Mystery Double Feature." Mannix - Barnaby Jones" has its premiere on Sunday, Sept. 16 as a full two-hour weekly offering of dramatic suspense on the CBS Television Network.

"Mannix," the first half of the dual 60-minute presentations 7:30-8:30, will be back for its seventh season on the Network, with Connors again starring as Joe Mannix, and Gail Fisher costarring as his secretary Peggy Fair.

The series will again feature Robert Reed as Lt. Adam Tobias, Jack Ging as Lt. Dan Ives, and Ward Wood as Art Malcolm, and young Mike Stewart will continue to appear periodically as Peggy's son Toby.

"Barnaby Jones," starring Buddy Ebsen in the title role and Lee Meriwether as his widowed daughter-in-law and assistant Betty Jones, begins its second season on the Network as the latter half of "The Mystery Double Feature" 8:30-9:30 p.m. The Hollywood-filmed Quinn Martin production this year will find the deceptively down-home Barnaby in more physical danger than last season, and in some episodes the series will depart from its usual practice of revealing the culprit at the opening of the segment, making the viewer a "partner" with Barnaby in his shrewd sleuthing.

ACTOR-DIRECTOR

Robert Moore, who will co-star in the regular role of window dresser Marshall Tyler in NBC-TV's new comedy series, "Diana," also will direct an upcoming series episode, "Hannan's Rainbow." The episode also will introduce a new character — an elderly office boy, played by Walter Burke.

Walker Rapped For Vetoing Bank Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Rep. James C. Taylor, D-Chicago, said Friday he deserves an apology from Gov. Daniel Walker for vetoing a bill Taylor said the governor's staff asked him to introduce.

Taylor quoted Walker in a veto message saying the bill, to extend the power of the board of banks and trust companies over the state commissioner of banks, was "not in the public interest."

"If that's the case, then the governor had better have a talk with his legislative liaison men," Taylor said in a statement.

"They're the ones who asked me to introduce it in behalf of the commissioner of banks."

"Next time I won't be so eager to do a favor for the governor," he said.

Douglas Kane, director of legislative liaison, was not immediately available.

However, a spokesman for Walker's office said the veto was not a reflection on Taylor because he had been asked only to give an opportunity for a point of view to be heard in the legislature.

"The bill eventually gave too much power to the banking and trust company industry through its representatives on the board, the spokesman said. "It was opposed in its final form to the governor's philosophy, which is consumer oriented."

Three Indicted By Grand Jury Here Friday

A 23-member Morgan county grand jury Friday afternoon returned three indictments against Jacksonville men accused on criminal charges.

Terry McMeans, 17, of 1097 N. Fayette was indicted on a charge of burglary and the arraignment date was scheduled for Sept. 24 at 2 p.m.

AUTHORITIES SEEK ROBBERY SUSPECTS AT MT. STERLING

MT. STERLING — Authorities continue to seek more information regarding the dark Oldsmobile that was chased away from the Colgan Standard station here early the morning of Sept. 10th. The car was last seen running at a high rate of speed from Mt. Sterling on route 24.

According to city Officer Leezer he noticed the vehicle at the station at 5 a.m. Monday, the 10th, and when he investigated the car sped away.

The auto ran a stop sign on Main street, went west and on route 24 stopped and dumped a cash register, identified as property of the station.

The register had not been opened and this is believed the only item taken from the premises. Damage to the register was estimated at $250.

Entrance to the station was gained by breaking one of the large glasses in a door on a service bay, and turning the latch.

Urbana Man Claims Nixon Called Him

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—An Urbana businessman who put up three billboards praising President Nixon says the President called him on the phone Thursday night to say thanks.

"It was just a person to person type call," Dobbs said in an interview. "The President did not talk about serious matters. He just told me how much he had warmed his heart to receive my support."

In Washington, White House spokesman Gerald Warren said: "We have no record of such a call."

Dobbs was not reached immediately to explain the discrepancy.

Dobbs, 41, paid $300 to put up the three 12-by-25 foot billboards, which say: "I have more faith in this man...than I have in any of his accusers...especially the press."

It was signed "Dwight Dobbs...a proud American citizen."

The owner of an Urbana office machine and supply company said his talk with Nixon lasted 15 minutes. He said he told the President: "Stop in for lunch if you ever get to Urbana."

The President reciprocated with an invitation to the White House if Dobbs and his family visited Washington, he said.

"One reason for putting up the billboards was to give the President a lift," Dobbs said. "From our phone conversation, I could tell that he had received a lift."

Dobbs said Mrs. Nixon had also expressed her gratitude. He received a "warm" thank you letter from the First Lady on Friday, he stated.

The complaint charges that Miss Cornwall gave birth to a girl Sept. 9 in a dormitory, then caused the child's death.

The Aug. 4 deaths of Randall John Keehner and Louis LeRoy Thaxton were ruled accidental, resulting from injuries sustained in a one-car accident east of Jacksonville on a county road.

Three deaths resulting from a collision one mile north of Jacksonville on Route 78 Aug. 18 were all ruled accidental: James Barry Patterson, Ronald Decker and Debra Ann Wild.

Coroner Lowe said the inquests were held at the courthouse earlier this week.

Picking Auditor General Up To General Assembly

By WILLIAM C. WERTZ Associated Press Writer SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Daniel Walker and the General Assembly may end up at odds over the selection of a new auditor general and determination of his duties and responsibilities.

The conflict is rooted in the natural antagonism between the executive and legislative branches of government.

The new Illinois Constitution provides that for the first time in history the auditor general will be selected by the Assembly, rather than by the governor.

A bill implementing that constitutional provision was passed by the assembly this year and lacks only Walker's signature to become law.

The bill would make the Legislative Audit Commission responsible for recommending a qualified candidate for the job. Approval of three-fifths of both houses would be required, and the auditor general's term of office would be extended from six to ten years.

The state's current auditor general, David B. Thomas, was appointed by former Gov. Richard Ogilvie in 1968, with the approval of the State Senate. Thomas would like to keep his job.

The audit commission, anticipating Walker's approval of the measure, is already in the process of forming a blue-ribbon committee to search for a candidate.

But Rep. Robert F. McPartlin, D-Chicago, a commission member told his colleagues at a meeting this week that Walker has reservations about the bill.

The problem is in the area of so-called "performance" or "efficiency" audits.

In the years since the office was created in 1958, auditors general have generally confined their activities to fiscal audits—determining whether departments and agencies were spending and accounting for their funds in a proper manner. But in recent years, the auditor general's office has broadened its examinations to include a look at the overall performance of an agency, and such audits are specifically included in the bill on Walker's desk.

A performance audit attempts to determine not only how a department is spending its money, but whether it is using its personnel, property, equipment and space in as efficient and economical a manner as possible. It also attempts to determine whether the department is carrying out its designated duties and responsibilities and whether its programs duplicates, overlap or conflict with other state programs.

Judge Gordon D. Seator Friday morning heard arguments on a motion by State's Attorney Edwin Parkinson asking for a continuance in the murder trial of Martin L. Hammers, Jr., 21.

Murder Trial Continued To October Date

Judge Seator allowed the motion for continuance and set Oct. 22 at 10 a.m. as the trial date before Judge J. Waldo Ackerman.

Judge Seator heard the motion at the request of Judge Ackerman so that a Saturday hearing would not be necessary.

Parkinson argued that he was asking for one month so that he could personally handle the case and that he would be involved with the prosecution of the Barron Dean Fomer murder trial in Decatur starting Monday. Hammers was scheduled to go to trial on Tuesday.

Defense Attorney William Schildman objected to the motion and said that he was ready to go to trial on Tuesday and that a further delay would deprive his client of a speedy trial.

In other court action, William McCurley, 320 N. Prairie, had his charge of battery reduced to disorderly conduct and he was fined $25 and $15 costs on his plea of guilty.

Kurt M. Wade, 16, of 2 Valleyview entered a plea of guilty to no valid driver's license, and was fined $15 and $10 costs.

Preliminary hearings for two Texas youths were continued to Sept. 21. Steven L. Robinson, 17, and Lester W. Chambliss, 18, had been scheduled for preliminary hearings Friday morning on charges of unlawful possession of cannabis.

Legislators Probe Practices Of Slumlords

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A special legislative subcommittee is launching an investigation into alleged slumlord practices the group says are preventing urban residents and businessmen from receiving insurance coverage at reasonable rates.

Rep. William F. Mahar, R-Homewood, will head the subcommittee, which has scheduled its first public meeting Sept. 24 in Chicago.

A subcommittee spokesman said the group would examine the effectiveness of a federal plan designed to insure the availability of basic property insurance at reasonable rates.

Rep. Bernard Epton, R-Chicago, chairman of the House Insurance Committee, said the plan "is now jeopardized by the machinations of a few individuals."

According to the subcommittee, slumlords obtain urban buildings at a low cost, then insure them for their much higher replacement value through the federal plan.

Many of these buildings are destroyed, the subcommittee contends, because the slumlords fail to maintain them properly.

When the slumlords collect the insurance, that drives up rates for everyone in the area, the subcommittee says.

Epton said the committee will hold a series of meetings and recommend appropriate legislation to remedy the problems and abuses the investigation reveals.

Other subcommittee members are Reps. William L. Kemper, R-Joliet; Thomas H. Miller, R-South Holland; Arthur L. Berman, D-Chicago, and Harold Washington, D-Chicago.
